NEWS RELEASE TSX-V: QNC

Quantum Numbers Corp. (TSX VENTURE: QNC) announces that the European Patent Office "(EPO)" granted QNC a patent on September 20th, 2019. In addition, QNC received two Notice of Issuance from the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO).

Montreal, Canada. September 25, 2019 - Quantum Numbers Corp. (the "Corporation" or "QNC") is pleased to announce it recently received an Issue Notification from the USPTO. This notification is related to the patent application entitled "Method and System for Generating a Random Bit Sample" U.S. Patent Application No. 16/150,010. This patent was allowed earlier this year and, following allowance formalities, will be published as U.S. Patent 10,430,160 on October 1, 2019. Furthermore, The EPO granted QNC, a European Patent based on E. P. Application No. 18 161 523.8. Quantum Numbers Corp. is currently addressing grant formalities and selecting which European states the patent would validate.

QNC also received a second Issuance Notification from the "USPTO" related to the patent application entitled "Method and System for Generating a Random Numbers and Associated Numbers Generator." The U.S. Patent Application No. 16/024,409 was allowed earlier this year and, following allowance formalities, will be published as U.S. Patent 10,437,559 on October 8, 2019.

"We are pleased to have secured more than 98% of all our claims in the USA with the granting of our 4 USA patents. Also, by using the PACE program, we were able to obtain the grant of our first Patent in Europe efficiently. We trust that the following study of our file by the European Patent Office will allow us to benefit from a similar level of protection in the USA." Mr. Phaneuf, CEO
