1 Description of business and organization

Datametrex AI Limited (the “Company”) is a technology company focused on collecting, analyzing and presenting structured and unstructured data using machine learning and artificial intelligence. The Company also started health security businesses, including COVID-19 related services, concierge medical services and telemedicine services.

The Company is a publicly traded corporation, incorporated in the province of Ontario and its head office is located at 2300 Yonge Street, Suite 2802, Toronto, Ontario, M4P 1E4, Canada. The Company’s common shares are listed on the TSX Venture Exchange (“TSXV”) under the trading symbol “DM” and on the Frankfurt Stock Exchange under the trading symbol “D4G”.

Beginning in March 2020, the Governments of Canada and the United States, as well as other foreign governments instituted emergency measures as a result of the COVID-19 virus outbreak. The virus has had a major impact on North America and international securities and currency markets, and consumer activity which may impact the Company’s financial position, its results of future operations and its future cash flows significantly. As a result, the Company entered into agreements securing the rights to import COVID-19 test kits from manufacturers in South Korea. The Company provides COVID-19 related services on the Canadian and international market. COVID-19 has had a significant impact on the Company’s financial position, its results of operations and its cash flows for the year ended December 31, 2021 and for the six months ended June 30, 2022. However, the Company is unable to predict how COVID-19 will affect the Company’s ability to generate positive financial results and cash flows and its ability to raise capital in the future, as the need for COVID-19 test kits may not be as great going forward, depending on the nature and number of variants that occur.

2 Significant accounting policiesBasis of presentation and statement of compliance

It also requires management to exercise judgment in applying the Company’s accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgment or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the financial statements have been set out in note 2 to the Company’s consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2021. Critical Accounting Estimates and Judgments

The preparation of these consolidated financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to make estimates and judgments that affect the applications of accounting policies regarding certain types of assets, liabilities, revenues, and expenses in the preparation of these consolidated financial statements. Estimates and judgments are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the year in which the estimates are revised and in any future years affected. These estimates and judgments are based on management's historical experience, best knowledge of current events or conditions and activities that the Company may undertake in the future. Actual results could differ materially from these estimates.

Judgments

Information about critical judgments in applying accounting policies that have the most significant risk of causing material adjustment to the amounts reported in these consolidated financial statements are discussed below:

a) Business combinations, control and significant influence

The Company uses judgment in determining the entities that it controls and therefore, consolidates or has significant influence over and therefore accounts for on an equity basis. The Company controls an entity when the Company has existing rights that give it the current ability to direct the activities that significantly affect the entities' returns. The Company has significant influence when the Company has the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee, but does not control nor has joint control of that investee's policies.

b) Intangible assets and goodwill

Management is required to use judgment in determining the economic useful lives of identifiable intangible assets. Judgment is also required to determine the frequency with which these assets are to be tested for impairment. The Company uses judgment in determining the grouping of assets to identify its Cash Generating Units (“CGUs”) for purposes of testing for impairment of intangible assets and goodwill. In testing for impairment, goodwill acquired in a business combination is allocated to the CGUs that are expected to benefit from the synergies of the business combination. In testing for impairment of intangibles with indefinite lives, these assets are allocated to the CGUs to which they relate.

c) Income taxes

In calculating current and deferred income taxes, the Company uses judgment when interpreting the tax rules where the Company operates. The Company also uses judgment in classifying transactions and assessing probable outcomes of claimed or accrued deductions, which considers expectations of future operating results, the timing and reversal of temporary differences and possible audits of income tax filings by tax authorities.

d) Share based compensation

In calculating grant valuations, various inputs and assumptions are used with respect to expected option life, risk free interest rate, dividend yield and expected volatility.

Estimates

The effect of a change in an accounting estimate is recognized prospectively by including it in profit or loss in the year of the change, if the change affects that year only, or in the year of the change and future years, if the changes affects both.

a) Accrued liabilities, provisions and contingent consideration

Certain estimates and assumptions that have a significant risk of causing material adjustments to the carrying amount of assets and liabilities within the next fiscal year include accrued liabilities, provisions and contingent consideration. These estimates are based on management’s assumptions, based on current circumstances, that management believes are a reasonable basis upon which to estimate the future liabilities. Specifically for provisions, that the amount of the estimate is reliable and that management has determined that there is an expectation that future outflows of assets will be necessary to cover the provided for amounts.

b) Fair value of intangible assets and goodwill

With respect to intangible assets acquired and goodwill recognized in a business combination, the Company determines fair values using such estimates such as discounts rates, growth rates and terminal capitalization rates. These estimates take into account any material change to the assumptions that occur when reviewed annually by management.

12 Fair values of financial instruments

The Company is exposed to risks that arise from its use of financial instruments. This note describes the Company's objectives, policies and processes for managing those risks and the methods used to measure them. Further quantitative information in respect of these risks is presented below.

Management has overall responsibility for the determination of the Company's risk management objectives and policies and, whilst retaining ultimate responsibility for them, it has delegated the authority for designing and operating processes that ensure the effective implementation of the objectives and policies to the Company's finance function.

The overall objective of management is to set policies that seek to minimize risk as far as possible without unduly affecting the Company's competitiveness and flexibility. The Company has established risk management policies and procedures designed to reduce the potentially adverse effects of price volatility on operating results and distributions. Further details regarding these policies are set out below.

Credit risk and economic dependence

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Company if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations. Financial instruments which are potentially subject to credit risk for the Company consists primarily of cash and cash equivalents and trade and loan receivables.

Credit risk associated with cash and cash equivalents is minimized by ensuring these financial assets are maintained with financial institutions of reputable credit and may be redeemed upon demand.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they become due. The Company's approach is to ensure it will have sufficient liquidity to meet operations, tax, capital and regulatory requirements and obligations, under both normal and stressed circumstances. Cash flow projections are prepared and reviewed by management to ensure a sufficient continuity of funding exists. The Company's financial liabilities are comprised of its accounts payable and accrued liabilities, debt and contingent consideration. The payments for the Company's accounts payable and accrued liabilities are due in less than a year.

The following table sets out the Company's contractual maturities (representing undiscounted contractual cash flows) of financial liabilities and commitments:

	12 months $	1 to 2 years $	2 to 5 years $	Total $
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	4,566,892	-	-	4,566,892
Loan payable	30,000	-	-	30,000
At June 30, 2022	4,596,892	-	-	4,596,892

Market risk

Market risk is the risk that changes in market prices, such as interest rates and foreign exchange rates will affect the Company's net earnings or the value of financial instruments. The objective of the Company is to manage and mitigate market risk exposures within acceptable limits, while maximizing returns.

The Company is exposed to market risk from changes in interest rates, in particular the Canadian bank prime rates as certain of the Company's debt instruments have variable interest rates based on the Canadian prime rates, which could affect operating results, financial position and cash flows. The Company manages its exposure to this market risk through its regular operating and financing activities. A 1% change in interest rate would have an immaterial impact on these consolidated financial statements.

The Company is exposed to market risk from changes in foreign exchange rates, in particular the exchange rate between the Canadian Dollar and the Korean Won as certain transactions are denominated in Korean Won, which could affect operating results, financial position and cash flows. The Company manages its exposure to this market risk through its regular operating and financing activities. A 1% change in the exchange rate between the Korean Won and the Canadian Dollar would have an immaterial impact on these consolidated financial statements.

Fair values of financial instruments

IFRS 13 - Fair value measurement, requires disclosure of a three-level hierarchy (“FV hierarchy”) that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making fair value measurements and disclosures. Fair values of assets and liabilities included in Level 1 are determined by reference to quoted prices in active markets for identical assets and liabilities. Assets and liabilities in Level 2 include those whose valuations are determined using inputs other than quoted prices for which all significant inputs are observable, either directly or indirectly. Level 3 valuations are those based on inputs that are unobservable and significant to the overall fair value measurement.

Cash and cash equivalents, trade and loan receivables, accounts payable and accrued liabilities and the loan payable, have relatively short periods to maturity, and as such, the carrying values contained in the consolidated statements of financial position approximate their estimated fair value.

The Company’s marketable securities are measured at fair value in the consolidated statement of financial position in accordance with level 1 of the fair value hierarchy.

The terms of the Nexalogy Contingent Consideration is as follows: (a) baseline of $200,000 in cash on the first anniversary of the date of closing (November 20, 2018); (b) $200,000 in cash on the second anniversary of the date of closing (November 20, 2019); (c) $200,000 in cash on the third anniversary of the date of closing (November 20, 2020), each such payment being conditional on Nexalogy achieving certain revenue targets with a minimum of $100,000 to a maximum of $240,000 per anniversary date payment. Up to December 31, 2020, the fair value measurement of the Nexalogy Contingent Consideration was categorized as a Level 3 fair value based on the discounted cash flows valuation method used and the following assumptions: (i) payments of $200,000 at each of the three anniversary dates based on expected revenue projections; and (ii) a discount rate of 19.80%. The undiscounted range of aggregate payments for the Nexalogy Contingent Consideration over the three anniversary dates is between $300,000 to $720,000 depending on the achievement of certain revenue targets.

The fair value measurement was impacted by two significant inputs: the discount rate used and the expected payment amounts. A movement by a factor of 10% in the discount rate and expected payment amounts would result in an approximately 3% and 10% change in the fair value measurement of contingent consideration contained in the consolidated statements of financial position, respectively.

As at December 31, 2020, the fair value of the contingent consideration was $278,923 and was included in “Provisions and contingent consideration”. During the year ended December 31, 2021, the Company settled the contingent consideration of $278,923. As such, the balance of contingent consideration at June 30, 2022 and December 31, 2021 is $nil.
