NEWS RELEASE

TRENCH METALS BEGINS REVIEW OF TECHNICAL DATA FOR GORILLA LAKE URANIUM PROJECT

January 6, 2021 – Vancouver, British Columbia – Trench Metals Corp. (the “Company”) (TSXV: TMC) has commenced a review of available technical data on its Gorilla Lake Uranium Project. The review is the initial step in commencing a phased exploration program at the Project, which is ultimately expected to involve diamond drilling intended to focus on deeper basement hosted uranium targets.

The Company will provide further information on a planned exploration program for the Project once the review of technical data has been completed.

The Company currently holds an option to acquire to the Gorilla Lake Uranium Project, which comprises a series of mineral claims located in the Athabasca basin of Northern Saskatchewan. For further information concerning the Project, readers are encouraged to review the geological report prepared for the Company in respect of the Project, dated effective October 8, 2020, a copy of which is available under the profile for the Company on SEDAR (www.sedar.com).
