Notice to the reader

Unlike the non-venture issuer certificate required by National Instrument 52-109 Certification of Disclosure in Issuers' Annual and Interim Filings ("NI 52-109"), this Venture Issuer Basic Certificate does not include any statements regarding the establishment and maintenance of disclosure controls and procedures (DC&P) and internal control over financial reporting (ICFR), as defined in NI 52-109. In particular, the signatory officers filing this attestation make no representation regarding the establishment and maintenance of:

(i) controls and other procedures designed to provide reasonable assurance that the information required by an issuer in its annual filings, interim filings or other reports filed or filed under securities legislation is recorded, processed, condensed and disclosed in a timely manner prescribed by securities legislation;

(ii) a process designed to provide reasonable assurance that the financial information is reliable and that the financial statements have been prepared for financial reporting purposes in accordance with the issuer's GAAP.

It is the responsibility of the issuer's signing officers to ensure that there are processes in place to obtain sufficient information to make the representations contained in this Certificate. Investors are cautioned that the limitations inherent in the ability of signatory officers of a venture issuer to cost-effectively design and implement DC&P and ICFR, as defined in NI 52-109, may give rise to additional risks relating to the quality, reliability, transparency and timeliness of annual and interim filings and other reports provided under securities legislation.
