1. Nature of Operations

Alaska Energy Metals Corporation (“Alaska Energy” or the “Company”) is a public company listed on the TSX Venture Exchange trading under the symbol “AEMC”. The registered office of the Company is located at Suite 300 - 1055 West Hastings St. Vancouver, BC V6E 2E9.

The Company’s business focuses on exploration and development of mineral resources. All of the Company’s projects are considered to be in the exploration stage and the Company has not yet determined whether these properties contain mineral resources that are economically recoverable (“ore reserves”).

2. Basis of Preparation and Going Concern

The Company prepares its condensed interim consolidated financial statements in accordance and compliance with International Accounting Standard (“IAS”) 34, Interim Financial Reporting using accounting policies consistent with IFRS Accounting Standards (“IFRS”) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”). These condensed interim consolidated financial statements do not contain all the disclosures required by IFRS for annual financial statements and should be read in conjunction with the Company’s audited consolidated financial statements for the year ending December 31, 2023 prepared in accordance with IFRS. IAS 34 does not require disclosure of accounting policies used in interim statements.

These condensed interim consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the assumption that the Company will continue as a going concern, which contemplates that the Company will continue in operation for the next twelve months and that it will be able to realize its assets and meet its liabilities in the normal course of operations. Realization value may be substantially different from carrying value as shown and these condensed interim consolidated financial statements do not give effect to adjustments that would be necessary to the carrying values, classification of assets and liabilities should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern. As of September 30, 2024, the Company had not yet achieved profitable operations and had an accumulated deficit of $64,074,821 (December 31, 2023 – $58,379,614). Management has carried out an assessment of the going concern assumption and has concluded that the Company may not have sufficient cash and other financial assets to continue operating at current levels for the ensuing twelve months. The Company’s forecast indicates the existence of uncertainty that raises significant doubt about the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern and, therefore, that it may be unable to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business. The Company’s ability to continue as a going concern is dependent upon its ability to raise additional equity, continue some of its existing partnerships, partner additional exploratory prospects, and receipt of option payments.

2.1 Changes in Accounting Policies and Disclosures

The Company has adopted these accounting standards effective January 1, 2024. The adoption of the standards and amendments had no material impact on the condensed interim consolidated financial statements:

Amendments to IAS 1 – Classification of Liabilities as Current or Non-Current

The amendments to IAS 1 provide a more general approach to the classification of liabilities based on the contractual arrangements in place at the reporting date.

2.2 Upcoming Changes in Accounting Standards

IFRS 18 Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements

IFRS 18 introduces three sets of new requirements to give investors more transparent and comparable information about companies’ financial performance for better investment decisions. This new standard is effective for reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2027.

3. Material Accounting Policies

The material accounting policies set out below have been applied consistently to all years presented in these condensed interim consolidated financial statements and have been applied consistently by the Company and its subsidiaries.

Principles of Consolidation

The condensed interim consolidated financial statements comprise the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries as September 30, 2024. Subsidiaries are fully consolidated from the date of acquisition, being the date on which the Group obtains control, and continue to be consolidated until the date when such control ceases.

All intra-group balances, transactions, unrealized gains and losses resulting from intra-group transactions and dividends are eliminated in full.

The condensed interim consolidated financial statements of the Company include the following significant subsidiaries:

Name of Subsidiary	Place of Domicile	Percentage Ownership September 30, 2024	Percentage Ownership December 31, 2023
Alaska Energy Metals Development Corp.	USA	100%	100%
Alaska Energy Metals Holdings LLC	USA	100%	100%
Millrock Mexico Holdings Corp.	Canada	100%	100%
1413336 BC Ltd.	Canada	100%	100%
MROCK	Mexico	100%	100%

The Company consolidates all of its subsidiaries on the basis that it controls these subsidiaries through its ability to govern their financial and operating policies. The Company has consolidated 1413336 BC Ltd. (“141 BC”) starting from the date of acquisition on November 7, 2023. The Company sold Recursos Millrock on December 29, 2023 (Note 13). All intercompany transactions and balances are eliminated on consolidation.

Foreign Currency Translation

i) Functional and Presentation Currency

Items included in the accounts of each of the Company’s entities are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates (the “functional currency”).

The condensed interim consolidated financial statements are presented in Canadian dollars (the “presentation currency”). The Canadian dollar is the functional currency of the Alaska Energy Metals Corporation, 141 BC and Millrock Mexico Holdings Corp. The US dollar is the functional currency of the Company’s United States subsidiaries. The Mexican peso is the functional currency of the Company’s Mexican subsidiaries.

ii) Transactions and Balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transaction. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions as well as from the translation of monetary assets and liabilities not denominated in the functional currency are recognized in profit or loss except for monetary items that are designated as part of the Company’s net investment of a foreign operation.

3. Material Accounting Policies (cont'd)

ii) Transactions and Balances (cont'd)

Assets and liabilities of entities with functional currencies other than Canadian dollars are translated to Canadian dollars at the period end rates of exchange, and the results of their operations are translated at average rates of exchange for the period. The resulting translation adjustments are included in the other comprehensive loss reserve in shareholders' equity. Additionally, foreign exchange gains and losses, related to certain intercompany loans that are permanent in nature, are included in accumulated other comprehensive loss reserve.

The foreign exchange gains and losses from translating foreign operations are recognized in other comprehensive income or loss until the foreign subsidiary is disposed of, at which time, the cumulative amount is reclassified to profit or loss.

Exploration and Evaluation Assets

The Company is in the exploration stage with respect to its investment in exploration and evaluation assets and follows the practice of capitalizing all costs relating to the acquisition of, exploration for, and development of mineral properties to which the Company has rights. Exploration expenditures typically include costs associated with acquisition of rights to explore, prospecting, sampling, mapping, diamond drilling and other work involved in searching for ore.

Evaluation expenditures reflect costs incurred at exploration projects related to establishing the technical and commercial viability of mineral deposits identified through exploration or acquired through a business combination or asset acquisition. Costs incurred prior to the acquisition of a mineral property are charged to profit or loss as incurred under the heading of General Exploration. Evaluation expenditures include the cost of:

- i) Establishing the volume and grade of deposits through drilling of core samples, trenching and sampling activities to classify deposits as either a mineral resource or a proven and probable reserve;
- ii) Determining the optimal methods of extraction and metallurgical and treatment processes;
- iii) Studies related to surveying, transportation and infrastructure requirements;
- iv) Permitting activities; and
- v) Economic evaluations to determine whether development of the mineralized material is commercially justified, including scoping, prefeasibility and final feasibility studies.

From time to time, the Company may acquire or dispose of mineral interests pursuant to the terms of option agreements. Due to the fact that options are exercisable entirely at the discretion of the optionee, the amounts payable or receivable are not recorded. Option payments are recorded as acquisition cost additions or recoveries when the payments are made or received. The Company maintains ownership and control of the property until the earn-in partner fulfills contractual obligations and the costs incurred over that period are capitalized. When the obligations are positively fulfilled the earn-in partner is afforded a predetermined interest in the project, which may result in a change of control, but not joint control.

From time to time the Company may issue shares for option-in agreements in respect of acquisition of mineral interests. These equity-settled share-based payment transactions are measured by reference to the fair value of the equity instruments granted with the corresponding increase in equity.

Exploration and Evaluation Assets (cont'd)

Exploration and evaluation assets are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment test is performed when (a) the right to explore in a specific area has expired or will expire in the near future without expectation to renew, (b) exploration or evaluation expenditures of any significance are not planned or budgeted, (c) no mineral resources in a specific area have been discovered which have the potential for commercial viability and the Company has decided to halt further activities in the area, or (d) sufficient indications exist that the minerals in a specific area can be developed, however the asset is unlikely to recover in full the carrying cost.

An impairment loss is recognized for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less cost to sell and value in use.

Financial Instruments

Financial instruments are initially recognized at their fair value, and subsequently measured at fair value if classified at fair value through profit or loss or measured using the effective interest method if classified as amortized cost.

The Company's financial assets at fair value through profit or loss include cash and marketable securities.

The Company's financial assets at amortized costs include amounts receivable.

The Company has classified its accounts payable and accrued liabilities, due to related parties and lease liability as amortized cost.

Share Capital

Common shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of common shares and share options are recognized as a deduction from equity, net of any tax effects. Common shares held by the Company are classified as treasury stock and recorded as a reduction to shareholders' equity. Equity financing transactions may involve the issuance of units. The Company has adopted the residual value method with respect to the measurement of shares and warrants issued as units. The residual value method first allocates value to the more easily measurable component based on fair value and then the residual value, if any, to the less easily measurable component. The fair value of the common shares issued in private placements is determined to be the more easily measurable component and are valued at their fair value, as determined by the closing trade price on the announcement date. The residual balance, if any, is allocated to attached warrants. Any fair value attributed to the warrants is recorded in share-based payment reserve.

Current and Deferred Income Tax

Income tax expense is recognized in profit or loss except to the extent that it relates to items recognized either in other comprehensive loss or directly in equity, in which case it is recognized in other comprehensive loss or in equity, respectively. Current tax is the expected tax payable on the taxable income for the year, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date, and any adjustment to tax payable in respect of previous years. Taxes on income in the interim periods are accrued using the tax rate that would be applicable to expected total annual earnings.

Current and Deferred Income Tax (cont'd)

Deferred income tax is recognized, using the liability method, on temporary differences arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts in the condensed interim consolidated financial statements. However, deferred income tax is not recognized if it arises from initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction other than a business combination that at the time of the transaction affects neither accounting nor taxable profit nor loss. Deferred income tax is determined using tax rates (and laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the condensed interim consolidated statements of financial position date and are expected to apply when the related deferred income tax asset is realized or the deferred income tax liability is settled. A deferred tax asset is recognized to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the temporary difference can be utilized. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realized.

Share-Based Payment Transactions

Share-based payment arrangements in which the Company receives goods or services as consideration for its own equity instruments are accounted for as equity-settled transactions and, when determinable, are recorded at the value of the goods and services received. If the value of the goods and services received are not determinable, then the fair value of the share-based payment is used.

The Company uses a fair value based method (Black-Scholes Option Pricing model) for all share options granted to directors, employees and certain non-employees. This model employs assumptions for risk free interest rates, dividend yields, expected lives, and volatility based on historical data. For directors and employees, the fair value of the share options is measured at the date of the grant.

For grants to non-employees where the fair value of the goods or services is not determinable, the fair value of the share options is measured on the date the services are received.

The fair value of share-based payments is charged either to profit or loss or the related asset as applicable, such as exploration and evaluation assets, with the offsetting credit to share-based payments reserve. For directors and employees, the share options are recognized over the vesting period based on the best available estimate of the number of share options expected to vest. Estimates are subsequently revised if there is any indication that the number of share options expected to vest differs from previous estimates. Any cumulative adjustment prior to vesting is recognized in the current period. No adjustment is made to any expense recognized in prior periods where vested. For non-employees, the share options are recognized over the related service period. When share options are exercised, the amounts previously recognized in share-based payments reserve are transferred to share capital.

In the event share options are forfeited prior to vesting, the associated fair value recorded to date is reversed. The fair value of any vested share options that expire remain in share-based payments reserve.

Provisions

A provision is recognized if, as a result of a past event, the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation that can be estimated reliably, and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation. Provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows at a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability.

Revenue Recognition

Revenue from contracts with customers is derived from exploration services and overhead recovery fees. Revenue is recognized when a contract exists, the Company can identify the payment terms for the goods or services to be transferred, the related performance obligations are satisfied, and it is probable that the Company will collect the consideration to which it will be entitled. Overhead recovery fees are generated when the Company operates an exploration program under a budget approved by the earn-in partner. The Company charges the earn-in partner a pre-determined fee.

Overhead recovery fees earned by the Company under contracts with earn-in partners constitutes revenue with a customer as the Company is contracted to provide certain services which are considered an output of the Company's ordinary activities. Such fees are therefore within the scope of IFRS 15 and presented as revenue in the Company's profit or loss. The terms of the arrangements are not complex and are standardized across all joint exploration agreements, the only variation between agreements being that the consideration will be either be a fixed value for a period of time or based on a fixed or variable percentage of qualifying expenditures. Contracts typically consist of one performance obligation under IFRS 15, being the provision of project management services. Performance obligations are satisfied over time as the customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Company's performance as the Company provides the services. Progress on performance obligations is measured using the output method based on time elapsed for fixed overhead recovery fees and input method based on expenditures incurred for variable overhead recovery fees. Reimbursement of development expenditure and advanced royalty payments received by the Company under the terms of the agreement is not considered to be revenue from a customer as these are not considered an output of the Company's ordinary activities; such income will continue to be off-set against the capitalized cost of exploration and evaluation assets on the Company's statement of financial position.

Loss per Share

The Company applies the "Treasury Stock Method" to calculate loss per common share. Under this method, the basic loss per share is calculated based on the weighted average aggregate number of common shares outstanding during each period. The diluted loss per share assumes that the outstanding stock options and share purchase warrants had been exercised at the beginning of the period and proceeds from dilutive instruments are assumed to be used to purchase common shares at the average market price during the period. The assumed conversion of outstanding common share warrants and options had an anti-dilutive impact for the periods presented.

Flow-Through shares

The Company may, from time to time, issue flow-through common shares to finance its exploration programs. Pursuant to the terms of the flow-through share agreements, these shares transfer the tax deductibility of qualifying resource expenditures to investors. Upon issuance, the Company bifurcates the flow-through share into: (i) share capital; and (ii) a flow-through share premium equal to the estimated premium, if any, investors pay for the flow-through feature, which is recognized as a liability.

Upon expenses being renounced, the Company derecognizes the liability and recognizes a deferred tax liability for the amount of tax reduction renounced to the investors. The premium is recognized as other income and the related deferred tax is recognized as a tax provision.

Proceeds received from the issuance of flow-through shares are restricted to be used only for Canadian resource property exploration expenditures within a two-year period. As at September 30, 2024, the Company has a remaining flow-through commitment of $335,100 (December 31, 2023 - $1,000,000). During the period ended September 30, 2024, the Company recorded a flow-through tax recovery of $166,225 (2023 - $Nil).

The Company may also be subject to a Part XII.6 tax on flow-through proceeds renounced under the Look-back Rule in accordance with Government of Canada flow-through regulations. When applicable, this tax is accrued as a financial expense until paid.

4. Significant Accounting Judgements, Estimates and Assumptions

The preparation of condensed interim consolidated financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates. Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed at each period end. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimates are revised and in any future periods affected. The most significant areas requiring the use of management’s judgments, assumptions and estimates relate to the following:

1. Recoverability of the carrying value of exploration and evaluation assets: Management applies significant judgement to determine at each reporting period whether there are any indicators of impairment applying to each specific property. Where an indicator exists, a formal assessment of the impairment is made. If no indicators of impairment are identified, no impairment test is performed.
2. Going concern assumption: The Company’s ability to continue as a going concern is dependent on its ability in the future to achieve profitable operations and in the meantime, obtain the necessary financing to meet its obligations and repay its liabilities when they come due. Realization values may be substantially different from carrying values and these condensed interim consolidated financial statements do not give effect to adjustments that would be necessary to the carrying values and classification of assets and liabilities should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

5. Marketable Securities

Marketable securities consist of investments in quoted equity shares of public companies. The fair value of the equity shares has been determined directly by reference to published price quotations in an active market.

10. Financial Instruments

i) Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The Company’s financial instruments that are measured at fair market value on a recurring basis in periods subsequent to initial recognition and the fair value hierarchy used to measure them are presented in the table below.

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;

Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices); and

Level 3: Inputs for the asset or liability that is not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

The table set out below summarizes the Company’s financial instruments measured at fair value on a recurring basis and shows the level within the fair value hierarchy in which they have been classified.

Financial Instrument	Level	September 30, 2024	December 31, 2023
Cash	1	$ 4,705,100	$ 3,939,327
Marketable securities	1	$ -	$ 439,844

The fair values of other financial instruments including amounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, lease liability and due to related parties reasonably approximate their carrying values due to their short-term nature or market rates for similar instruments.

i) Equity Price Risk

The Company’s listed equity securities are susceptible to market price risk arising from uncertainties about future values of the investment securities. Reports on the equity portfolio are submitted to the Company’s senior management on a regular basis. The Company’s Board of Directors reviews and approves all equity transaction decisions.

ii) Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that one party to a financial instrument will cause a financial loss for the other party by failing to discharge an obligation. The total carrying values of the cash and amounts receivable represents the Company’s maximum exposure to credit risk. The Company reduces its credit risk on cash by placing these instruments with large financial institutions.

iii) Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with financial liabilities. The Company manages liquidity risk by maintaining sufficient cash balances to enable settlement of transactions on the due date. Accounts payable and accrued liabilities, lease liability current portion and due to related parties are expected to be settled within 12 months of September 30, 2024.

The Company does not have a formal policy to manage risk; however, management actively monitors movement in foreign currency and forecasts foreign currency payments. Foreign exchange risk is mitigated by the offset of assets against liabilities.

v) Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company is not exposed to significant interest rate risk.

vi) Capital Management Risk

The Company's objectives when managing capital are to safeguard its ability to continue as a going concern, to pursue the exploration and development of its mineral properties, and to maintain a flexible capital structure which optimizes the cost of capital within a framework of acceptable risk. In the management of capital, the Company includes the components of shareholders' equity.

The Company manages the capital structure and makes adjustments to it in light of changes in economic conditions and the risk characteristics of the underlying assets. The Board of Directors does not establish quantitative return on capital criteria for management, but rather relies on the expertise of the Company's management to sustain future development of the business. To maintain or adjust its capital structure, the Company may issue new shares, issue new debt, acquire or dispose of assets or bring in earn-in partners.

The Company is not currently subject to any external restrictions. As at September 30, 2024, there is no change in the management's approach of capital management from prior year.

12. Acquisition of 1413336 BC Ltd.

On November 24, 2023, the Company acquired 100% of the issued and outstanding securities of 141 BC, an arms' length company by issuing 31,827,720 shares ("Consideration Shares") and issuing 4,105,958 warrants exercisable at $0.80 for a period of 1.75-2 years.

24,000,001 of the Consideration Shares are subject to a three-year escrow hold period, with 10% of the escrowed securities being releasable at the time of the Final TSX-V Bulletin, and 15% of the escrowed securities being releasable every six months thereafter until released in full. 7,827,719 of the Consideration Shares are subject to a 60-day contractual hold period.

15. Contingency

On June 3, 2021, a former property partner (the “Complainant”) filed a Third-Party Complaint against the Company to enforce certain royalty interest in mining claims on a legacy project, not related to Nikolai, purportedly held by the Complainant. The hearing date for this case was recently re-set to the week of February 18, 2025.

The Company has made an assessment on the validity of the claims and, at this time, the probability and amounts of any potential loss resulting from such claims is not determinable and no amounts have been accrued for any potential liability resulting from this in these condensed interim consolidated financial statements.

The Company determines whether an estimated loss from a contingency should be accrued by assessing whether a loss is deemed probable and can be reasonably estimated. The Company assesses our potential liability by analyzing our litigation and regulatory matters using available information. The Company develops our views on estimated losses in consultation with outside counsel handling our defense in these matters, which involves an analysis of potential results, assuming a combination of litigation and settlement strategies. Should developments in any of these matters cause a change in our determination as to an unfavorable outcome and result in the need to recognize a material accrual or should any of these matters result in a final adverse judgment or be settled for significant amounts, they could have a material adverse effect on our results of operations, cash flows and financial position in the period or periods in which such change in determination, judgment or settlement occurs.
