Mr. Tse brings nearly 30 years of experience in both the private and public companies. He is the former Managing Director and CEO of Galaxy Resources Limited which acquired Orocobre Limited in 2021 to create Allkem Limited and became the world’s fifth largest lithium producer, where he was on the Board for eleven years. He is currently Chairman of Nano One Materials Corp., a lithium battery cathode materials developer and producer, listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange (TSX: NANO). Aside from his industry roles, Mr. Tse has held positions with leading institutional investors. Yellowknife Project

On August 25, 2025, the Company commenced its 2025 exploration program at the Yellowknife property. A total of 10 holes for 3,445 m of drilling is planned at the Shorty (2,655 m) and Nite (790 m) dykes. This program is on-going with no results yet available.

On October 10, 2025, the Company announced it had completed its 2025 baseline environment studies program for the Yellowknife property, which consisted of the completion of the first of two years of seasonal baseline data that are required for advanced permitting activities, including Environmental Assessment. The Program was led by Det’on Cho Environmental, an Indigenous-owned environmental services firm owned by the Yellowknives Dene First Nation, under the direction of the Company.

Cali Project

On July 3, 2025, the Company reported the start of exploration activities at the Cali project for the 2025 exploration season. Planned work focused on evaluating the potential of spodumene-bearing pegmatite dykes of the Little Nahanni Pegmatite Group (LNPG) through geological mapping, rock sampling, and approximately 1,100 metres of channel sampling. These activities were designed to test the continuity of the LNPG onto the Company’s newly staked claims to the northwest as well as to follow up on promising results from the Company’s 2023 exploration program.

On October 16, 2025, the Company announced the results of its 2025 exploration program at the Cali project. The completed program was consistent with the plans announced in July 2025, comprising systematic channel sampling, geological mapping, and rock sampling of spodumene-bearing LNPG dykes to evaluate grade, width, and metallurgical characteristics. A total of 43 rock samples were collected along with 187 one-metre-long samples from 24 channels between 2 and 23 metres in length. Highlights include channel sample composites of 1.3% Li₂O over 21 metres and 1.0% Li₂O over 21 metres, both in the 2023 work area. Fieldwork also identified several new spodumene-bearing pegmatite dykes on the newly staked claims, with channel samples returning up to 2.4% Li₂O over 3 metres, extending the LNPG corridor approximately three kilometres beyond previous mapping. Select samples have been submitted for metallurgical testing, with results expected in the first quarter of 2026..

Rupert Project

On July 11, 2025, the Company completed the sale of 313 claims from the Rupert project to Power Metallic Mines Inc. (“PNPN”) pursuant to a purchase agreement dated June 9, 2025. As consideration for the claims, PNPN paid to the Company $700,000 in cash, issued 6,000,000 common shares and granted the Company a 0.5% net smelter returns royalty. The shares issued remain subject to a statutory hold period expiring on November 12, 2025, and ½ of which remain subject to an additional contractual resale restriction ending on July 11, 2026.

Pontax Project

On September 23, 2025, the Company announced that it elected to proceed with the second option in respect of the Pontax property, pursuant to the option agreement between the Company and Harfang dated July 20, 2022 (the “Option Agreement”). The Company previously exercised its first option and acquired an initial 51% interest in the Pontax property by paying to Harfang an aggregate of $100,000 over a three-year period and incurring $1,650,000 in exploration expenditures on the Pontax property.

Following the exercise of the first option, the Company elected to accept the grant of the second option to acquire a further 19% interest (for an aggregate 70% interest). The second option requires the Company to:

- make an additional $50,000 payment to Harfang, which the Company elected to pay through the issuance of 14,044 common shares of the Company; and
- incur an additional $3,350,000 in expenditures on the Pontax property prior to the expiry of the second option period, which ends three years after the exercise of the first option.

Upon exercise of the second option, Harfang has the option of converting its remaining participating interest of 30% into a 2.5% net smelter returns royalty or to form a joint venture to further explore the property, pursuant to the terms of the Option Agreement.

USE OF PROCEEDS

Use of Proceeds

Unless otherwise specified in a Prospectus Supplement, the net proceeds to the Company from the sale of the Securities will be used (i) for general corporate purposes including project exploration, (ii) for general working capital purposes and (iii) for completing acquisitions, repaying existing or future indebtedness, and other corporate purposes to be set forth in the Prospectus Supplement relating to the offering of the Securities. At present, the Company does not have any proposed acquisitions and does not intend to use the net proceeds from the sale of Securities to complete any specific acquisitions or to repay any existing or future indebtedness.

The amount of net proceeds expected to be received from the sale of Securities, and each of the principal purposes for which the Company will use those net proceeds, will be set forth in the applicable Prospectus Supplement. The Company may invest net proceeds which it does not immediately use. Such investments may include short-term marketable investment grade securities. The Company may, from time to time, issue securities (including Securities) other than pursuant to this Prospectus.

More detailed information regarding the use of proceeds from the sale of Securities, including any determinable milestones at the applicable time, will be described in a Prospectus Supplement and will include reasonable detail of the principal purposes of the proposed use of net proceeds in accordance with the requirements of Section 4.2 of Form 44-101F1 – Short Form Prospectus ("Form 44-101F1"), as well as the business objectives expected to be accomplished using the net proceeds of such offering and each significant event that must occur to accomplish such business objective, including the cost thereof, in accordance with Section 4.7 of Form 44-101F1.

Management of the Company will retain broad discretion in allocating the net proceeds of any offering of Securities by the Company under this Prospectus and the Company's actual use of the net proceeds will vary depending on the availability and suitability of investment opportunities and its operating and capital needs from time to time. All expenses relating to an offering of Securities and any compensation paid to underwriters, dealers or agents, as the case may be, will be paid out of the proceeds from the sale of such Securities, unless otherwise stated in the applicable Prospectus Supplement. See "Risk Factors – Discretion in the Use of Proceeds."

Since inception, the Company has had negative operating cash flow and incurred losses. The Company's negative operating cash flow and losses are expected to continue for the foreseeable future. The Company cannot predict when it will reach positive operating cash flow, if ever and will continue to require additional funding in order to fund continued operation. Due to the expected continuation of negative operating cash flow, the Company anticipates the proceeds raised in connection with the sale of the Securities will be used to fund activities that will contribute to negative cash flow in the near term.

PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

The Company may from time to time during the 25-month period that this Prospectus, including any amendments thereto, remains valid, offer for sale and issue up to an aggregate of $200,000,000 in Securities hereunder.

The Company may sell Securities: (i) to or through underwriters or dealers, (ii) directly to purchasers, (iii) through agents, or (iv) through a combination of any of these methods of sale. The distribution of the Securities of any series may be effected from time to time in one or more transactions.

The Prospectus Supplement relating to a particular offering of Securities will identify each underwriter, dealer or agent engaged in connection with the offering and sale of the Securities, as well as the method of distribution and the terms of the offering of such Securities, including the net proceeds to the Company and, to the extent applicable, any fees, discounts, concessions or any other compensation payable to the underwriters, dealers or agents and any other material terms. Only underwriters, dealers or agents so named in the Prospectus Supplement are deemed to be underwriters, dealers, or agents, as the case may be, in connection with the Securities offered thereby.

In addition, Securities may be offered and issued in consideration for the acquisition of other businesses, assets or securities by the Company or one of its subsidiaries. The consideration for any such acquisition may consist of the Securities separately, a combination of Securities or any combination of, among other things, Securities, cash and assumption of liabilities.

Securities may be sold from time to time in one or more transactions at a fixed price or prices or at prices which may be changed or at market prices prevailing at the time of sale, at prices related to such prevailing prices or at negotiated prices, including sales in transactions that are deemed to be 'at-the-market distributions' (as defined in NI 44-102), including sales made directly on an existing trading market for the Common Shares, such as the TSXV, or sales made to or through a market maker other than on an exchange. The price at which the Securities will be offered and sold may vary from purchaser to purchaser and during the period of distribution.

Underwriters, dealers and agents may make sales of Securities in privately negotiated transactions and/or any other method permitted by law, including sales deemed to be an “at-the-market distribution” and subject to limitations imposed by and the terms of any regulatory approvals required and obtained under, applicable Canadian securities laws which includes sales made directly on an existing trading market for the Common Shares, or sales made to or through a market maker other than on an exchange. In connection with any offering of Securities other than an ‘at-the-market distribution’, the underwriters may over-allot or effect transactions which stabilize, maintain or otherwise affect the market price of the Securities at a level other than those which otherwise might prevail on the open market. Such transactions may be commenced, interrupted or discontinued at any time. Any purchaser who acquires securities forming part of the underwriters’ over-allocation position acquires such securities under the applicable Prospectus Supplement, regardless of whether the over-allocation position is ultimately filled through the exercise of the over-allocation option or secondary market purchases. No underwriter or dealer involved in an “at-the-market distribution” under this Prospectus, no affiliate of such an underwriter or dealer and no person or company acting jointly or in concert with such underwriter or dealer will over-allot Securities in connection with such distribution or effect any other transactions that are intended to stabilize or maintain the market price of the Securities.

If, in connection with the offering of Securities at a fixed price or prices, the underwriters have made a bona fide effort to sell all of the Securities at the initial offering price fixed in the applicable Prospectus Supplement, the offering price may be decreased and thereafter further changed, from time to time, to an amount not greater than the initial offering price fixed in such Prospectus Supplement, in which case the compensation realized by the underwriters will be decreased by the amount that the aggregate price paid by purchasers for the Securities is less than the gross proceeds paid by the underwriters to the Company.

Under agreements which may be entered into by the Company and underwriters, dealers and agents who participate in the distribution of the Securities may be entitled to indemnification by the Company against certain liabilities, liabilities, including liabilities under the U.S. Securities Act and applicable Canadian securities legislation, or to contribution with respect to payments which such underwriters, dealers or agents may be required to make in respect thereof. Such underwriters, dealers and agents may engage in transactions with, or perform services for the Company in the ordinary course of business.

Each distribution of Securities will be a new issue of securities for which (other than the Common Shares) there is no established trading market. Unless otherwise specified in a Prospectus Supplement relating to a series of Securities, the Securities (other than Common Shares) will not be listed on any securities exchange. There is no market through which such Securities may be sold and purchasers may not be able to resell such Securities purchased under this Prospectus. This may affect the pricing of such Securities in the secondary market, the transparency and availability of trading prices, the liquidity of such Securities, and the extent of issuer regulation. Certain broker dealers may make a market in the Securities, but will not be obligated to do so and may discontinue any market making at any time without notice. No assurance can be given that any broker dealer will make a market in the Securities of any series or as to the liquidity of the trading market, if any, for the Securities of any series.

Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Prospectus Supplement, this Prospectus does not constitute an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy any Securities in the United States. Unless otherwise specified in the applicable Prospectus Supplement, the Securities have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act or any state securities laws, and may not be offered or sold within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons, unless the Securities are registered under the U.S. Securities Act and applicable state securities laws or an exemption from such registration requirements is available. Each underwriter, dealer and agent who participates in the distribution will agree not to sell or offer to sell or to solicit any offer to buy any Securities within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, a U.S. person, except pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act and any applicable state securities laws.

DESCRIPTION OF UNITS

The Company may issue Units comprised of one or more of the other Securities described in this Prospectus in any combination. Each Unit will be issued so that the holder of the Unit is also the holder of each Security included in the Unit. Thus, the holder of a Unit will have the rights and obligations of a holder of each included Security. The unit agreement under which a Unit is issued may provide that the Securities included in the Unit may not be held or transferred separately, at any time or at any time before a specified date.

A description of the material terms of the Units that the Company offers, and the extent to which the general terms and provisions described in this section apply to those Units, will be set out in the applicable Prospectus Supplement. The Prospectus Supplement will describe some or all of the following terms relating to the Units being offered:

- the aggregate number of Units being offered and the price at which the Units will be offered;
- the designation and terms of the Units and of the Securities comprising the Units, including whether and under what circumstances those Securities may be held or transferred separately;
- any provisions, procedures and limitations for the issuance, payment, settlement, transfer or exchange or exercise of the Units or of the Securities comprising the Units; and
- terms applicable to the gross or net proceeds from the sale of the Units plus any interest earned thereon;
- the date on and after which the Securities comprising the Units will be separately transferable;
- whether the Securities comprising the Units will be listed on any securities exchange;
- whether such Units or the Securities comprising the Units are to be issued in registered form, “book-entry only” form, bearer form or in the form of temporary or permanent global securities and the basis of exchange, transfer, and ownership thereof;
- certain material Canadian tax consequences of owning the Units; and
- any other material terms and conditions of the Units.

OTHER MATTERS RELATING TO THE SECURITIES

General

The foregoing descriptions of the terms of the Debt Securities, Warrants, Subscription Receipts and Units set forth certain general terms and provisions of such Securities. The particular terms and provisions of the Debt Securities, Warrants, Subscription Receipts and Units offered by any Prospectus Supplement, and the extent to which the general terms and provisions described herein may apply to them, will be described in the Prospectus Supplement filed in respect of such Securities.

The Company reserves the right to include in a Prospectus Supplement specific terms pertaining to Debt Securities, Warrants, Subscription Receipts and Units that are not within the descriptions set forth in this Prospectus, provided that such Securities will not be specified derivatives or asset-backed securities. To the extent that any terms or provisions or other information pertaining to Debt Securities, Warrants, Subscription Receipts and Units described in a Prospectus Supplement differ from any of the terms or provisions or other information described in this Prospectus, the description set forth in this Prospectus shall be deemed to have been superseded by the description set forth in the Prospectus Supplement with respect to those Securities. Prospective investors should rely on information in the applicable Prospectus Supplement and read this Prospectus together with the applicable Debt Indenture or other indenture or agreement.

Securities offered under this Prospectus may be issued in certificated form or in book-entry only form.

Certificated Form

Securities issued in certificated form will be registered in the name of the purchaser or its nominee on the registers maintained by the Company's transfer agent and registrar or the applicable Trustee.

Book-Entry Only Form

Securities issued in "book-entry only" form must be purchased, transferred or redeemed through participants ("participants") in a depository service of a depository identified in the Prospectus Supplement for the particular offering of Securities. Each of the underwriters, dealers or agents, as the case may be, named in the Prospectus Supplement will be a participant of the depository. On the closing of a book-entry only offering, the Company will cause a global certificate or certificates representing the aggregate number of Securities subscribed for under such offering to be delivered to, and registered in the name of, the depository or its nominee. Except as described below, no purchaser of Securities issued in book-entry only form will be entitled to a certificate or other instrument from the Company or the depository evidencing that purchaser's ownership thereof, and no purchaser will be shown on the records maintained by the depository except through a book-entry account of a participant acting on behalf of such purchaser. Each purchaser of such Securities will receive a customer confirmation of purchase from the registered dealer from which the Securities are purchased in accordance with the practices and procedures of such registered dealer. The practices of registered dealers may vary, but generally customer confirmations are issued promptly after execution of a customer order. The depository will be responsible for establishing and maintaining book-entry accounts for its participants having interests in the book-entry only Securities. Reference in this Prospectus to a holder of book-entry only Securities means, unless the context otherwise requires, the owner of the beneficial interest in the Securities.

If the Company determines, or the depository notifies the Company in writing, that the depository is no longer willing or able to discharge properly its responsibilities as depository with respect to the book-entry only Securities and the Company is unable to locate a qualified successor, or if the Company at its option elects, or is required by law, to terminate the book-entry system, then such Securities will be issued in certificated form to holders or their nominees.

INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Owning any of the Securities may subject holders to tax consequences. The applicable Prospectus Supplement may describe certain Canadian federal income tax consequences to an investor who is a non-resident of Canada or to an investor who is a resident of Canada of acquiring, owning and disposing of any of the Securities offered thereunder. Investors should read the tax discussion in any Prospectus Supplement with respect to a particular offering and consult their own tax advisors with respect to their own particular circumstance.

EARNINGS COVERAGE RATIOS

Earnings coverage ratios will be provided as required by applicable securities laws in the applicable Prospectus Supplement(s) with respect to the issuance of Debt Securities having a maturity in excess of one year pursuant to this Prospectus.

PRIOR SALES

Information in respect of prior sales of Common Shares and other Securities distributed under this Prospectus and for securities that are convertible into or exchangeable for Common Shares or such other Securities within the previous 12-month period will be provided, as required, in a Prospectus Supplement with respect to the issuance of Common Shares and/or other Securities pursuant to such Prospectus Supplement.

MARKET FOR SHARES

The Common Shares of the Company are listed for trading on the TSX Venture Exchange under the symbol "LIFT". Trading prices and volumes of the Common Shares for the previous 12-month period will be provided in each Prospectus Supplement.

RISK FACTORS

An investment in the Securities involves a high degree of risk and must be considered highly speculative due to the nature of the Company's business and is only suitable for investors who are willing and can afford to risk a loss of their entire investment. Prospective investors should give carefully consideration, in light of their own financial circumstances, to all of the information contained and incorporated or deemed to be incorporated by reference in this Prospectus before purchasing Securities offered under this Prospectus and any applicable Prospectus Supplement, and in particular should give special consideration to the risk factors below and in the section entitled "Forward-Looking Information" above and included in the Company's then current annual information form and those described in a document incorporated by reference in this Prospectus (including subsequently filed documents incorporated by reference), and consult their own experts where necessary.

In addition to the below, discussions of certain risks affecting the Company in connection with its business are provided in the Company's disclosure documents filed with the various securities regulatory authorities which are incorporated by reference in this Prospectus. Additional risks not presently known the Company or that it currently considers immaterial may also materially and adversely affect the Company. If any of the events identified in these risks and uncertainties were to actually occur, the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations could be materially harmed.

Market for Securities

Other than for Common Shares, there is no market through which the Securities may be sold and purchasers may not be able to resell such Securities purchased under this Prospectus and any Prospectus Supplement. There can be no assurance that an active trading market will develop for Debt Securities, Warrants, Subscription Receipts or Units after an offering or, if developed, that such market will be sustained. This may affect the pricing of such Securities in the secondary market, the transparency and availability of trading prices, the liquidity of the Securities, and the extent of issuer regulation.

The public offering prices of the Securities may be determined by negotiation between Skeena and underwriters, dealers, agents or other purchasers based on several factors and may bear no relationship to the prices at which the Securities will trade in the public market subsequent to such offering, if any public market develops. See "Plan of Distribution."

Volatility of Stock Markets

Securities markets experience a high level of price and volume volatility, and the market price of securities of many companies has experienced wide fluctuations which have not necessarily been related to the operating performance, underlying asset values or prospects of such companies. Factors unrelated to the financial performance or prospects of the Company include macroeconomic developments in North America and globally, and market perceptions of the attractiveness of particular industries.

These fluctuations may affect the ability of holders of the Securities to sell their securities at an advantageous price. The market price of such securities may decline even if the Company's operating results, underlying asset values or prospects have not changed. Additionally, these factors, as well as other related factors, may cause decreases in asset values that are deemed to be other than temporary, which may result in impairment losses. There can be no assurance that continuing fluctuations in price and volume will not occur. If such increased levels of volatility and market turmoil continue, the Company's operations could be adversely impacted and the trading price of the Shares may be materially adversely affected.

If an active market for such securities does not continue, the liquidity of an investor's investment may be limited and the price of such securities may decline below the price at which the Securities are issued. If such a market does not develop, investors may lose their entire investment in the Securities.

As a result of any of these factors, the market price of the securities of the Company at any given point in time may not accurately reflect the long-term value of the Company.

Global Economy Risk

The volatility of global capital markets, more recently impacted by inflationary factors, escalating trade wars and other conflicts, including those in Ukraine and the Middle East, has generally made raising capital by equity or debt financing difficult. The Company may be dependent upon capital markets to raise additional financing in the future. As such, the Company is subject to liquidity risks in meeting its operating expenditure requirements and future development cost requirements in instances where adequate cash positions are unable to be maintained or appropriate financing is unavailable. These factors may impact the ability to raise equity or obtain loans and other credit facilities in the future and on terms favourable to the Company and its management. If these levels of volatility persist or if there is a further economic slowdown, the Company's operations, the Company's ability to raise capital and the trading price of the Company's securities could be adversely impacted.

Inflation

The Company's operating costs could escalate and become uncompetitive due to supply chain disruptions, inflationary cost pressures, equipment limitations, escalating supply costs, commodity prices and additional government intervention through stimulus spending or additional regulations. The Company's inability to manage costs may impact, among other things, future development decisions, which could have a material adverse impact on the Company's financial performance.

Discretion in the Use of Proceeds

The Company currently intends to use the net proceeds from the sale of the Securities as described under "Use of Proceeds." However, the Company retains broad discretion over the actual use of the net proceeds from the sale of the Securities and may elect to allocate net proceeds differently from that described under “Use of Proceeds” if determined to be in the Company’s best interests to do so. Investors may not agree with how the Company allocates or spends the proceeds from the sale of the Securities. The Company may pursue acquisitions, collaborations or other opportunities that do not result in an increase in the market value of the Company’s securities, including the market value of the Securities, and that may increase the Company’s losses.

Risk Factors Related to Dilution

The Company may issue additional securities in the future, which may dilute a shareholder’s holdings in the Company. The Company’s constating documents permit the issuance of an unlimited number of Common Shares. The Company’s shareholders do not have pre-emptive rights in connection with any future issuances of securities by the Company. The directors of the Company have discretion to determine the price and the terms of further issuances. Moreover, additional Common Shares will be issued by the Company on the exercise of options under its stock option plan and upon the exercise of outstanding convertible securities. Further, the Company’s shareholders may sell substantial amounts of securities of the Company following an offering of Securities.

The Company cannot predict the size of future sales or issuances of equity securities or convertible debt securities or the effect, if any, that future sales and issuances of equity securities or convertible debt securities may have on the market price of the Common Shares. However, sales or issuances of a substantial number of equity securities or convertible debt securities, or the perception that such sales could occur, may adversely affect prevailing market prices for the Common Shares.

Additional Financing

The continued development of the Company will require additional financing. There is no guarantee that the Company will be able to achieve its business objectives. The Company intends to fund its future business activities by way of additional offerings of equity and/or debt financing as well as through anticipated positive cash flow from operations in the future. The failure to raise or procure such additional funds or the failure to achieve positive cash flow could result in the delay or indefinite postponement of current business objectives. There can be no assurance that additional capital or other types of financing will be available if needed or that, if available, will be on terms acceptable to the Company. If additional funds are raised by offering equity securities, existing shareholders could suffer significant dilution. Any debt financing secured in the future could involve the granting of security against assets of the Company and also contain restrictive covenants relating to capital raising activities and other financial and operational matters, which may make it more difficult for the Company to obtain additional capital and to pursue business opportunities, including potential acquisitions. The Company will require additional financing to fund its operations until positive cash flow is achieved. See “Risk Factors – Negative Cash Flow from Operations.”

Negative Cash Flow from Operations

The Company is an exploration company and has not generated positive cash flow from operations. The Company is devoting significant resources to the development and expansion of its business, however there can be no assurance that it will generate positive cash flow from operations in the future. The Company currently has negative cash flow from operating activities and expects to continue to incur negative operating cash flow and losses until such time as it achieves commercial production.

Dividends

The Company does not anticipate paying any dividends on the Common Shares in the foreseeable future. Dividends paid by the Company would be subject to tax and, potentially, withholdings.

Any decision to declare and pay dividends in the future will be made at the discretion of the Company's board of directors and will depend on, among other things, financial results, cash requirements, contractual restrictions and other factors that the Company's board of directors may deem relevant. As a result, investors may not receive any return on an investment in the Securities unless they sell their securities of the Company for a price greater than that which such investors paid for them.

Forward-Looking Information may Prove Inaccurate

Investors are cautioned not to place undue reliance on forward-looking information. By its nature, forward-looking information involves numerous assumptions, known and unknown risks and uncertainties, of both a general and specific nature, that could cause actual results to differ materially from those suggested by the forward-looking information or contribute to the possibility that predictions, forecasts or projections will prove to be materially inaccurate. See "Forward-Looking Information."

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

There are no legal proceedings that the Company is or was a party to, or that any of its property is or as a subject of, that were or are material to the Company, nor are any such legal proceedings known to the Company to be contemplated which could be deemed material to the Company.

To the knowledge of management of the Company, there have not been any penalties or sanctions imposed against the Company by a court relating to securities legislation or by a securities regulatory authority, nor have there been any other penalties or sanctions imposed by a court or regulatory body against the Company that would likely be considered important to a reasonable investor in making an investment decision, and the Company has not entered into any settlement agreement before a court relating to securities legislation or with a securities regulatory authority.

PURCHASER’S STATUTORY RIGHTS

Subject to such further disclosure as may be provided in the applicable Prospectus Supplement, the following is a description of a purchaser’s statutory rights in respect of a purchase of Securities under this Prospectus. Securities legislation in certain of the provinces and territories of Canada provides purchasers with the right to withdraw from an agreement to purchase securities. This right may be exercised within two business days after receipt or deemed receipt of a prospectus and any amendment (irrespective, in the case of an offering on non-fixed price basis, of the determination at a later date of the purchase price of the Securities distributed). In several of the provinces and territories of Canada, the securities legislation further provides a purchaser with remedies for rescission or, in some jurisdictions, revisions of the price or damages if the prospectus and any amendment contains a misrepresentation or is not delivered to the purchaser, provided that the remedies for rescission, revision of the price or damages are exercised by the purchaser within the time limit prescribed by the securities legislation of the purchaser’s province or territory. The purchaser should refer to any applicable provisions of the securities legislation of the purchaser’s province or territory for the particulars of these rights or consult with a legal advisor.

CONTRACTUAL RIGHTS OF RESCISSION

Original purchasers of Securities which are convertible, exchangeable, or exercisable for other securities of the Company, including Warrants and Subscription Receipts if offered separately, will have a contractual right of rescission against the Company in respect of the conversion, exchange or exercise of such Securities.

The contractual right of rescission will entitle such original purchasers to receive, upon surrender of the underlying Securities, in addition to the amount paid on initial purchase, the amount paid on conversion in the event that this Prospectus, the relevant Prospectus Supplement or an amendment thereto contains a misrepresentation, provided that: (i) the conversion, exchange or exercise takes place within 180 days of the date of the purchase of such Securities under this Prospectus and the applicable Prospectus Supplement; and (ii) the right of rescission is exercised within 180 days of the date of the purchase of such Securities under this Prospectus and the applicable Prospectus Supplement. This contractual right of rescission will be consistent with the statutory right of rescission described under section 131 of the Securities Act (British Columbia), and is in addition to any other right or remedy available to original purchasers under section 131 of the Securities Act (British Columbia) or otherwise at law.

In an offering of Securities which are convertible, exchangeable or exercisable into other securities of the Company, investors are cautioned that the statutory right of action for damages for a misrepresentation contained in the prospectus is limited, in certain provincial and territorial securities legislation, to the price at which the Securities which are convertible, exchangeable or exercisable into other securities of the Company are offered to the public under the prospectus offering. This means that, under the securities legislation of certain provinces and territories, if the purchaser pays additional amounts upon the conversion, exchange or exercise of the Security, those amounts may not be recoverable under the statutory right of action for damages that applies in those provinces and territories. The purchaser should refer to any applicable provisions of the securities legislation of the purchaser's province or territory for the particulars of this right of action for damages or consult with a legal advisor.
