1. NATURE AND CONTINUANCE OF OPERATIONS

Saturn Oil & Gas Inc. was incorporated under the laws of British Columbia on August 16, 2001. The Company is in the business of acquiring, exploring, evaluating and developing economically viable energy and resource deposits in Canada. The Company's current focus is to advance the exploration of its oil and gas properties in west-central Saskatchewan.

The Company's corporate headquarters are at 1000, 207 9 Ave SW, Calgary, AB, T2P 1K3. Effective May 3, 2004, the common shares of the Company were listed on the TSX Venture Exchange ("TSXV") and trade under the symbol "SOIL".

Saturn is an independent oil and gas exploration, development and production company. The Company's reserves, producing properties and exploration prospects are located primarily in Saskatchewan. Saturn conducts certain of its operating activities jointly with others through unincorporated joint arrangements and these unaudited interim financial statements reflect only the Company's share of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses under these arrangements. The Company conducts all of its principal business in one reportable segment.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION

Statement of compliance

These condensed interim financial statements, including comparatives have been prepared using accounting policies consistent with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB") and Interpretations issued by the International Financial Reporting Interpretations Committee ("IFRIC") and in accordance with International Accounting Standards ("IAS") 34, Interim Financial Reporting. The policies applied in these condensed interim financial statements are based on IFRS issued and effective as of September 30, 2019.

Basis of presentation

The condensed interim financial statements have been prepared on a historical cost basis, except for financial instruments classified as financial instruments at fair value through profit or loss and available-for-sale, which are stated at their fair value. In addition, these condensed interim financial statements have been prepared using the accrual basis of accounting except for cash flow information. All dollar amounts presented are in Canadian dollars, which is the Company's functional currency, unless otherwise specified.

Use of estimates

The Company makes estimates and assumptions about the future that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities. Estimates and judgments are continually evaluated based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. In the future, actual experience may differ from these estimates and assumptions.

The effect of a change in an accounting estimate is recognized prospectively by including it in profit or loss in the period of the change, if the change affects that period only, or in the period of the change and future periods, if the change affects both.

Significant assumptions about the future and other sources of estimation uncertainty that management has made at the statement of financial position date, that could result in a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities, in the event that actual results differ from assumptions made, relate to, but are not limited to, the following:

- a) The recoverability of amounts receivable and due from related parties which is included in the statement of financial position;
- b) The carrying value of the investment in exploration and evaluation costs and the recoverability of the carrying value which are included in the statement of financial position;
- c) The determination of the fair value of stock options or warrants using stock pricing models requires the input of highly subjective assumptions, including the expected price volatility. Changes in the subjective input assumptions could materially affect the fair value estimate; therefore, the existing models do not necessarily provide a reliable single measure of the fair value of the Company's stock options and warrants;
- d) Fair values of petroleum and natural gas properties, depletion and depreciation and amounts used in impairment calculations are based on estimates of crude oil and natural gas reserves, oil and gas prices and future costs required to develop those reserves. By their nature, estimates of reserves and the related future cash flows are subject to measurement uncertainty, and the impact of differences between actual and estimated amounts on the consolidated financial statements of future periods could be material;
- e) Amounts recorded for asset retirement obligation liabilities including estimates around timing and amount of expenditures required to settle liabilities and the risk-free discount rate used;
- f) In the determination of fair value for convertible notes, the Corporation uses a discounted cash flow technique which includes inputs that are not based on observable market data and inputs that are derived from observable market data. In the case of its convertible debenture modifications, where available, the Corporation seeks comparable interest rates. If unavailable, it uses those considered appropriate for the risk profile of a corporation in the industry; and
- g) Recorded costs of flow-through share premium liabilities reflect the premium received by the Company on the issue of flow-through shares. The premium is subject to measurement uncertainty and requires the Company to assess the value of non-flow-through shares. This determination is subjective and does not necessarily provide a reliable single measure of the fair value of the flow-through share premium liability.

Critical accounting judgments

Information about critical judgments in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognized in the condensed interim financial statements include, but are not limited to, the following:

- a) Going concern of operations;
- b) Determination of categories of financial assets and liabilities;
- c) Petroleum and natural gas properties, exploration and evaluation assets and other corporate assets are aggregated into cash-generating units ("CGUs") based on their ability to generate largely independent cash flows and are used for impairment testing. The determination of the Company's CGUs is subject to management's judgment; and
- d) The decision to transfer exploration and evaluation assets to property, plant and equipment is based on management's determination of an area's technical feasibility and commercial viability based partially on proved and probable reserves.

3. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The preparation of financial data is based on accounting principles and practices consistent with those used in the preparation of the audited annual financial statements as at December 31, 2018. These condensed interim financial statements should be read in conjunction with the Company’s audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2018.

New accounting standards and interpretation

IFRS 16 – Leases. According to IFRS 16, all leases will be on the balance sheet of lessees, except those that meet the limited exception criteria. The standard is effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2019. The standard is required to be adopted either retrospectively or using a modified retrospective approach. IFRS 16 was applied by Saturn on January 1, 2019. The modified retrospective approach does not require restatement of prior period financial information as it recognizes the cumulative effect of applying the standard to prior periods as an adjustment to opening retained earnings.

The Company adopted IFRS 16 on January 1, 2019 using the modified retrospective approach and applying certain practical expedients available upon transition. Saturn intends to apply a practical expedient that allows the Company to apply a recognition exemption for leases with remaining lease terms of less than 12 months and leases of low value on the transition date. The payments of these leases will be disclosed in the notes to the financial statements. The Company also intends to apply a practical expedient which allows the right-of-use asset recognized on transition to equal the lease liability recorded versus recognizing the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset as if IFRS 16 had been applied since the commencement date of the lease. This practical expedient is available on a lease-by-lease basis and Saturn intends to apply it to leases that are not individually significant. In addition, any provision for onerous contracts previously recognized will be applied to the associated right-of-use asset recognized upon transition to IFRS 16 on transition date. In these cases, there will be no impairment assessment made under IAS 36 - Impairment of Assets.

The Company is in the process of quantifying the impact of the contracts that falls within the scope of the new standard. The Company expects the adjustments to be nominal and they have not been reflected in these statements.

16. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

The Company is exposed to various financial instrument risks and assesses the impact and likelihood of this exposure. These risks include liquidity risk, credit risk, currency risk, interest rate risk and price risk. Where material, these risks are reviewed and monitored by the Board of Directors.

a) Capital management

The Company manages its capital to safeguard its ability to continue as a going concern, so that it can continue to provide adequate returns to shareholders and benefits to other stakeholders, and to have sufficient funds on hand for business opportunities as they arise.

The Company considers the items included in share capital as capital. Saturn manages the capital structure and makes adjustments to it in light of changes in economic conditions and the risk characteristics of the underlying assets. In order to maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Company may issue new shares through private placements, or return capital to shareholders. As at September 30, 2019, the Company is not subject to externally imposed capital requirements.

Management reviews its approach to capital management on an ongoing basis and believes that this approach, given the relative size of the Company, is appropriate. There were no changes in the Company's approach to capital management during the period ended September 30, 2019.

b) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they fall due. Saturn is considered to be in the exploration and evaluation stage. Thus, it is dependent on obtaining regular financings in order to continue its exploration and evaluation programs. Despite previous success in acquiring these financings, there is no guarantee of obtaining future financings. The Company's cash is invested in business accounts with quality financial institutions, is available on demand for the Company's programs, and is not invested in any asset backed commercial paper. As at September 30, 2019, the Company had $985,077 (December 31, 2018 - $140,722) in cash and cash equivalents and $7,325,159 (December 31, 2018 - $12,594,368) in current liabilities. The Company is exposed to liquidity risk.

Following are the expected maturities of its financial liabilities as at September 30, 2019:

	<1 Year	1-2 Years	>2 Years
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	$ 7,325,159	$ -	$ -
Convertible notes	-	1,676,944	-
Revolving notes	-	-	18,547,969

c) Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of potential loss to the Company if the counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations. The Company's credit risk is primarily attributable to its liquid financial assets including cash and amounts receivable. Saturn limits exposure to credit risk on liquid financial assets through maintaining its cash with high-credit quality financial institutions.

d) Currency risk

Currency risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows will fluctuate as a result of changes in foreign exchange rates. All of the Company's petroleum and natural gas sales are conducted in Canada and are denominated in Canadian dollars. Canadian commodity prices are influenced by fluctuations in the Canada to US dollar exchange rate. Prices for oil are determined in global markets and generally denominated in US dollars. The Company is exposed to currency risk in relation to its US dollar denominated revolving notes. A 10% strengthening or weakening of the US dollar will contribute a $2.4 million increase or decrease to the Company's net income before tax (2018 – nil). The exposure of realized prices fluctuations of the US dollar and Canadian dollar exchange rate serves as a natural hedge to the US dollar denominated debt.

e) Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that future cash flows will fluctuate as a result of changes in market interest rates. The interest charged on the Revolving Facility fluctuates with the interest rates posted by the lenders. The Company is exposed to interest rate risk related to borrowings drawn under the Revolving Facility.

A change in prime interest rates by 1% would have changed net income by approximately $122,000 for the period ending September 30, 2019 (2019 – nil) assuming all other variables remain constant.

f) Price risk

The Company is exposed to price risk with respect to commodity and equity prices. Equity price risk is defined as the potential adverse impact on the Company's earnings due to movements in individual equity prices or general movements in the level of the stock market. Commodity price risk is defined as the potential adverse impact on earnings and economic value due to commodity price movements and volatility. The ability of the Company to explore its resource properties and future profitability of the Company are directly related to the market price of commodities. The Company monitors commodity and equity prices to determine appropriate actions to be undertaken.

g) Fair value

Financial instruments measured at fair value are classified into one of three levels in the fair value hierarchy according to the relative reliability of the inputs used to estimate the fair values. The three levels of the fair value hierarchy are:

Level 1 – Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;

Level 2 – Inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and

Level 3 – Inputs that are not based on observable market data.

The fair value of cash, marketable securities, and investments are measured based on Level 1 inputs of the fair value hierarchy.

The fair value of convertible notes and revolving notes are measured based on Level 2 inputs of the fair value hierarchy.
