About LD Micro:

Founded in 2006, the LD Micro is dedicated to delivering an independent resource in the microcap space, first and foremost as investors. What started as an investor newsletter highlighting unique companies has expanded to now encompass a number of influential annual events, including the LD Micro Invitational, Summit, and Main Event conferences. In 2015, LD Micro launched ldmicro.com as a portal for exclusive intraday reporting of information on the entire sector, including the first pure microcap index (LDMi) covering North American companies with market capitalization of $50-$300M.

About DelphX:

DelphX is a technology company focused on optimally mitigating credit risk in the global fixed income markets. Its Cloud-based solution employs proprietary distributed ledger technology, actuarial science and reinsurance protocols to facilitate broad diffusion of default risks. DelphX's new alternative trading system ("ATS") facility will be regulated by the SEC and operated by its subsidiary, DelphX Services Corporation, a FINRA member firm, to facilitate the negotiation, purchase and trading of its two new forms of Rule 144A securities:

- Covered Put Options (CPOs) that provide secured default protection for underlying corporate, municipal and sovereign securities, with each CPO strike-price equaling the par value of its underlying security; and
- Covered Reference Notes (CRNs) that allow investors to take on exposure to the default risk of a single underlying security or to optionally participate in a pool of diversified risks that broadly diffuses the impact of credit events among all participants.

All CPOs and CRNs will be issued by Quantem Capital Corporation ("Quantem"), a wholly-owned subsidiary of DelphX, and transparently administered within an immutable Distributed Ledger. A traditional book-entry record of each CPO and CRN will also be maintained in parallel by Quantem's issuing and paying agent to provide additional transparency and efficiency.
