Compensation Discussion and Analysis

The main objective of the Company's executive compensation program is to attract, retain, and engage high-quality, high-performance executives who have the experience and ability to successfully execute the Company's strategy and deliver value to our shareholders.

The objectives of the Company's executive compensation program are as follows:

- (i) compensate executives competitively for the leadership, skills, knowledge, and experience necessary to perform their duties;
- (ii) align the actions and economic interests of executives with the interests of shareholders; and
- (iii) encourage retention of executives.

The Company does not currently have a Compensation Committee. Rod Baker, Philip Murphy, David Reading, Francois Colette and Bertrand Boule are considered by management to be independent members of the Board of Directors (the "Independent Directors"), and they annually review and set remuneration of executive officers. The Independent Directors determined that the executive compensation program should be comprised of the following elements:

- Management Fee – to compensate executives for the leadership, skills, knowledge and experience required to perform their duties; and
- Long-term Incentive Plan – to retain talented executives, reward them for their anticipated contribution to the long-term successful performance of the Company and align them with the interests of shareholders. The plan currently consists only of incentive stock options.

Process for Determining Executive Compensation

To determine compensation payable, the Independent Directors consider an appropriate compensation reflecting the need to provide incentive and compensation for the time and effort expended by the directors and senior management while taking into account the financial and other resources of the Company. In setting the compensation, the Independent Directors annually review the performance of the CEO (or President) in light of the Company's objectives and consider other factors that may have impacted the success of the Company in achieving its objectives.

Compensation Policies and Risk Management

The Board of Directors has not carried out a formal evaluation of the implications of the risks associated with the Company's compensation policies and practices. The Board of Directors generally reviews at least once annually the risks, if any, associated with the Company's compensation policies and practices at such time.

The Company has not retained a compensation consultant during or subsequent to the most recently completed financial year.

The Company does not use a specific "benchmark group" to determine executive compensation levels. Total compensation for executive officers includes consulting fees and long-term incentive stock options.

Hedging of Economic Risks in the Company's Securities

The Company has not adopted a policy forbidding directors and officers from purchasing financial instruments that are designed to hedge or offset a decrease in market value of the Company's securities granted as compensation or held, directly or indirectly, by directors or officers. The Company is not, however, aware of any directors or officers having entered into this type of transaction.

Option-based awards

The Company's stock option plan has been and will be used to provide share purchase options which are granted in consideration of the level of responsibility of the executive as well as his or her impact or contribution to the longer-term operating performance of the Company. In determining the number of options to be granted to the executive officers, the Board of Directors takes into account the number of options, if any, previously granted to each executive officer, and the exercise price of any outstanding options to ensure that such grants are in accordance with the policies of the TSX Venture Exchange, and closely aligns the interests of the executive officers with the interests of shareholders. The directors of the Company are also eligible to receive stock option grants under the Company's stock option plan, and the Company applies the same process for determining such awards to directors as with NEOs.

A summary of the significant terms of the Company's stock option plan is reported under the heading "Fixed Stock Option Plan" above.

The Company's Independent Directors have the responsibility to administer the compensation policies related to the executive management of the Company, including option-based awards.
