Unless specified in a Prospectus Supplement, Securities may not be listed on any securities or stock exchange. Accordingly, unless so specified, there may be no market through which these securities may be sold and purchasers may not be able to resell securities purchased under this Prospectus. This may affect the pricing of such Securities in the secondary market, the transparency and availability of trading prices, the liquidity of such Securities and the extent of issuer regulation. See “Risk Factors”.

GENSOURCE POTASH CORPORATION

General

Gensource is a fertilizer development company incorporated in Ontario and headquartered in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, focused on advancing global food security by supplying key macronutrients at an affordable cost with a sustainable and modular approach to potash production. The Common Shares are currently admitted to trading on the TSXV and the AIM. The Board and the Corporation's senior management, have significant experience in establishing, developing, financing, operating and subsequently monetising potash companies in North America, as well as significant United Kingdom and international capital markets experience.

The Corporation's primary focus is the development of the Tugaske Project, located in Saskatchewan. It is intended that the Tugaske Project will be executed through KClean, in which the Corporation is anticipated to have a 67% interest, with the remaining 33% interest being held by the Corporation's offtake partner, HELM. As at the date hereof, KClean is a wholly owned subsidiary of Gensource.

The Corporation believes its technology and business model has the potential to be the future for potash development. The Corporation operates under a business model that has two key components:

- (a) vertical integration to ensure that all production capacity built is directed, and pre-sold, to a specific market, decreasing market-side risk. In the case of the Tugaske Project, it is expected that this will be accomplished through the offtake agreement with HELM; and
- (b) technical innovation which is expected to allow for a modular and economic potash production facility powered by low carbon energy. By using selective solution mining techniques, salt tailings are avoided, and corresponding brine ponds are not required thus lowering decommissioning risks. The elimination of salt tailing and brine ponds is expected to remove a negative environmental aspect of potash mining.

The potash production modules that are proposed to be developed by the Corporation are approximately 10% of the size of a traditional potash project, use less surface land, extract potash more efficiently than traditional potash projects, place a smaller demand on shared utilities, and have a lessened impact on local community infrastructure. Management believes that the Corporation's potash production modules are correctly sized to enhance rural communities in which the projects are located and provide long-term employment in those communities.

Following the construction of the Tugaske Project, the Corporation intends to develop other potash projects, within the wider Vanguard Area (the area in which the Tugaske Project is located) and the Lazlo Area, using the same potash production module as it is developing for the Tugaske Project. Further, the Corporation believes its modular approach will allow for the development of other known potash resources around the world where traditional large projects have proven uneconomic.

For a detailed description of the business of the Corporation, prospective investors should refer to the Corporation's 2020 AIF, which is incorporated by reference and available for viewing on the Corporation's SEDAR profile at www.sedar.com.

Management of the Corporation

The Directors of the Corporation are Michael Ferguson, Alton Anderson, Calvin Redlick, Michael Mueller, and Amy O'Shea and Stephen Dyer. Services).

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS

The following is a summary of recent developments involving the Corporation since June 30, 2021:

Formation of KClean as the Tugaske SPV

On August 20, 2021, the Corporation incorporated KClean, the Tugaske SPV, as a wholly-owned subsidiary, which is expected to finance, own, construct and operate the Tugaske Project.

HELM Credit Facility

On August 27, 2021, KClean entered into the HELM Credit Facility. The HELM Credit Facility is to be used by KClean to pay expenses in connection with the development of the Tugaske Project until such time as the equity commitments in KClean from the Corporation and HELM are advanced. The HELM Credit Facility will mature upon the earlier of August 31, 2024 or such time as the HELM Credit Facility is repaid by KClean. The HELM Credit Facility bears interest at a rate of 2.5% per annum, payable on maturity.

Commitment Letter from HELM

On September 2, 2021, the Corporation entered into a commitment letter with HELM whereby HELM has agreed to invest, subject to certain conditions, $50 million in equity into the Tugaske Project. The equity investment from HELM is subject to the completion of an equity offering by the Corporation in an amount of at least $105 million, the completion of the Debt Facility and the approval of the board of directors of HELM.

Securing of Debt Facility for the Tugaske Project

On September 23, 2021, the Corporation announced that it had received binding commitment letters from the Senior Lenders to provide, subject to certain conditions, the Debt Facility in an amount up to $280 million to the KClean. The Senior Lenders have each agreed to underwrite 50% of the Debt Facility, or up to $140 million each. The Debt Facility is proposed to be comprised of two tranches:

- (a) Tranche A is proposed to be a $140 million fully amortizing term loan facility to be supported by credit insurance issued by ECA; and
- (b) Tranche B is proposed to be a $140 million fully amortizing term loan facility not supported by credit insurance issued by ECA.

Conditions precedent to loan drawdowns include final approval of insurance coverage from the ECA, execution and delivery of certain customary documentation, equity expenditures and other customary conditions precedent typical for a project finance debt facility. For more information with respect to the Debt Facility, see “General Description of the Business – Commercial Contracts – Debt Facility Commitment Letters and ECA Insurance Coverage” in the 2020 AIF.

Tugaske Project Technical Report

On October 19, 2021, the Corporation announced the completion of the Tugaske Project Technical Report and subsequently filed the Tugaske Project Technical Report on the Corporation’s SEDAR profile. The Tugaske Project Technical Report amended the Prior Tugaske Project Technical Report by, among other things, updating the base case values of both mineral resource and mineral reserve summary tables.

Private Placement Offering of Debentures

On October 19, 2021, the Corporation completed a non-brokered private financing of $2,000,000 principal amount of Debentures at a price of $1,000 per Debenture.

The Debentures bear interest at a rate of 5% per annum from the date of issue, payable in arrears on the maturity date of the Debentures, which is June 30, 2023. The principal amount of each Debenture is convertible, in whole or in part, for no additional consideration, into Common Shares at the option of the holder at any time prior to the earlier of: (i) the close of business on the maturity date of June 30, 2023, and (ii) the business day immediately preceding the date specified by the Corporation for redemption of the Debentures, at a conversion price equal to $0.34 per Common Share.

As part of the financing, certain directors and officers of the Corporation purchased an aggregate of $1,985,000 principal amount of Debentures. The remaining amounts were purchased by other employees of the Corporation.

Common Shares Admitted to Trading on AIM

On November 5, 2021, the Common Shares were admitted to trading on the AIM. The Corporation sought the admission to AIM, in addition to its current listing on the TSXV, to take advantage of exposure to the United Kingdom and European financial markets and the increased liquidity expected with an additional listing on AIM. With the Corporation's relationship with the offtaker for the Tugaske Project, HELM, and the Senior Lenders, the Tugaske Project has generated interest from UK and European investors. Additionally, the Corporation's business plan of building future potash production modules around the world lends itself to obtaining increased liquidity through the global reach of the listing on AIM.

USE OF PROCEEDS

Our management will have discretion concerning the use of proceeds of an offering under any Prospectus Supplement as well as the timing of the expenditure of the proceeds thereof. As a result, investors will be relying on the judgment of management as to the specific application of the proceeds of any offering of Securities under any Prospectus Supplement. We currently intend to use the net proceeds from the sale of our securities for the development of the Tugaske Project and for working capital purposes. However, the final use of proceeds with respect to any particular offering may be impacted by various risk factors, including the impact of the COVID-19 outbreak on the Corporation's business, financial condition and results of operations. See "Risk Factors".

As at June 30, 2021, the Corporation's working capital position was $2,260,113 and the Corporation's cash balance was $2,693,920. The Corporation generated a net loss in its most recently completed financial year and its most recently completed fiscal quarter. The Corporation cannot guarantee that it will attain or maintain profits in the future. The Corporation anticipates that it will continue to incur losses until such time as commercial production may be achieved on one or more of its projects. To the extent that the Corporation has a net loss in any future period, certain of the proceeds from any offering of Securities may be used to fund such negative cash flow from operating activities in these periods. See "Risk Factors".

The following sets forth certain general terms and provisions of the Units offered under this Prospectus. The specific terms of the Units, and the extent to which the general terms described in this section apply to those Units, will be set forth in the applicable Prospectus Supplement.

Each Unit will be issued so that the holder of the Unit is also the holder of each of the Securities included in the Unit. The unit agreement, if any, under which a Unit is issued may provide that the Securities included in the Unit may not be held or transferred separately, at any time or at any time before a specified date.

The terms and provisions of any Units offered under a Prospectus Supplement may differ from the terms described above and may not be subject to or contain any or all of the terms described above.

A Prospectus Supplement may include specific variable terms pertaining to the Securities that are not within the alternatives and parameters described in this Prospectus.

All shelf information permitted under applicable laws to be omitted from this Prospectus will be contained in one or more Prospectus Supplements that will be delivered to purchasers together with this Prospectus. Each Prospectus Supplement will be incorporated by reference into this Prospectus for the purposes of applicable securities legislation as of the date of the Prospectus Supplement and only for the purposes of the distribution of the Securities to which the Prospectus Supplement pertains.

The Corporation may sell the Securities to or through underwriters or dealers purchasing as principals, and may also sell the Securities directly to one or more purchasers pursuant to applicable statutory exemptions or through agents. The Prospectus Supplement relating to a particular offering of Securities will identify each underwriter, dealer or agent, as the case may be, engaged by the Corporation in connection with the offering and sale of the Securities, and will set forth the terms of the offering of such Securities, including, to the extent applicable, any fees, discounts or any other compensation payable to underwriters, dealers or agents in connection with the offering, the method of distribution of the Securities, the initial issue price (in the event that the offering is a fixed price distribution), the proceeds that the Corporation will receive and any other material terms of the plan of distribution. The Securities may be sold from time to time in one or more transactions at a fixed price or prices or at non-fixed prices. If offered on a non-fixed price basis, Securities may be offered at market prices prevailing at the time of sale, at prices determined by reference to such prevailing market prices or at negotiated prices, which prices may vary as between purchasers and during the period of distribution of the Securities.

Any public offering price and any discounts, concessions or omissions allowed or re-allowed or paid to underwriters, dealers or agents may be changed from time to time.

In connection with any offering of Securities, the underwriters, dealers or agents, as the case may be, may over allot or effect transactions which stabilize or maintain the market price of the Securities at a level above that which otherwise might prevail on the open market. Such transactions, if commenced, may be discontinued at any time.

The outstanding Common Shares are listed and posted for trading on the TSXV under the trading symbol "GSP" and on the AIM under the trading symbol "GSP". As at November 25, 2021, being the last trading day prior to the date hereof, the closing trading price on the TSXV and AIM for the Common Shares was $0.385 and £0.28, respectively.

Each series or issue of Debt Securities, Warrants or Subscription Receipts will be a new issue of securities with no established trading market. Unless specified in a Prospectus Supplement, Securities may not be listed on any securities or stock exchange. Accordingly, unless so specified, there may be no market through which these securities may be sold and purchasers may not be able to resell securities purchased under this Prospectus. This may affect the pricing of such Securities in the secondary market, the transparency and availability of trading prices, the liquidity of such Securities and the extent of issuer regulation. See "Risk Factors" in the 2020 AIF.

Underwriters, dealers and agents who participate in the distribution of the Securities may be entitled under agreements to be entered into with the Corporation to indemnification by the Corporation against certain liabilities including liabilities under securities legislation, or to contribution with respect to payments that they may be required to make in respect thereof. Such underwriters, dealers and agents may be customers of, engage in transactions with, or perform services for the Corporation in the ordinary course of business.

The Securities have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act or any state securities laws. Accordingly, except in certain transactions exempt from the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act and applicable state securities laws and as specified in a Prospectus Supplement, the Securities may not be offered or sold within the United States.

RISK FACTORS

An investment in the Corporation is subject to a number of risks, including: risks related to additional requirements for capital; risks relating to the proposed mining method; risks related to the proposed HELM joint venture; risks related to the offtake agreement with HELM; commodity price fluctuations; dependence on key personnel; workforce and labour risks; competition; risks related to future acquisitions and joint-ventures; dependence on third party services; reliance on strategic relationships; project risks; compliance with laws; risks related to indigenous peoples; exploration and development; calculation of reserves and resource and potash recoveries; reclamation; litigation; government regulation and political risk; operating risks; uninsured hazards; weather conditions and climate change; permits and licenses; estimates in financial statements; change in capital and operating costs; external contractors and sub-contractors; transportation delays; sovereign risks; risks associated with the need to maintain an effective system of internal controls; action against the Corporation may be limited under law for Shareholders outside of Canada; title to assets; potential conflicts of interest; information systems security threats; COVID-19; negative operating cash flow; share price volatility; exposure to economic cycle; market perception; lack of dividends; risks related to the future issues or sales of Common Shares; interest rate risks; liquid trading market for the Common Shares; risks related to global financial conditions; risks related to dilution from the exercise of stock options and warrants; risks related to dilution from future sales or issuances of equity Securities; discretion in the use of the net proceeds from an offering of Securities; absence of a public market for Securities; risks related to the impact on interest rates on Debt Securities; and any additional risks that are incorporated by reference in this Prospectus, including those risk factors set forth in our 2020 AIF and 2020 MD&A.

Prospective investors in a particular offering of Securities should carefully consider, in addition to information contained in the relevant Prospectus Supplement relating to that offering and the information incorporated by reference therein, the risk factors described in the 2020 AIF and 2020 MD&A which are incorporated by reference therein as at the date of the Prospectus Supplement relating to the particular offering of Securities.

Risks Relating to the Offerings and the Securities

The Corporation's growth, future profitability and ability to obtain financing may be impacted by global financial conditions.

The volatility of global capital markets over the past several years has generally made the raising of capital by equity or debt financing more difficult. The Corporation may be dependent upon capital markets to raise additional financing in the future. As such, the Corporation is subject to liquidity risks in meeting its operating expenditure requirements and future development cost requirements in instances where adequate cash positions are unable to be maintained or appropriate financing is unavailable. These factors may impact the ability to raise equity or obtain loans and other credit facilities in the future and on terms favourable to the Corporation and its management. If these levels of volatility persist or if there is a further economic slowdown, the Corporation's operations, the Corporation's ability to raise capital and the trading price of the Corporation's securities could be adversely impacted.

In addition, the current outbreak of COVID-19, and any future emergence and spread of similar pathogens, could have a material adverse impact on global economic conditions, which may adversely impact: the market price of the Common Shares, the Corporation's operations, its ability to raise debt or equity financing for the purposes of exploration and development, and the operations of the Corporation's suppliers, contractors and service providers.

The exercise of outstanding stock options or warrants will result in dilution to the holders of Common Shares.

The issuance of Common Shares upon the exercise of the Corporation's outstanding stock options will result in dilution to the interests of shareholders, and may reduce the trading price of the Common Shares. Additional stock options and warrants to purchase Common Shares may be issued in the future. Exercises of these securities, or even the potential of their exercise, may have an adverse effect on the trading price of the Common Shares. The holders of stock options or warrants are likely to exercise them at times when the market price of the Common Shares exceeds the exercise price of the securities. Accordingly, the issuance of Common Shares upon exercise of the stock options and warrants will likely result in dilution of the equity represented by the then outstanding Common Shares held by other shareholders. The holders of stock options or warrants can be expected to exercise or convert them at a time when the Corporation would, in all likelihood, be able to obtain any needed capital on terms which are more favorable to the Corporation than the exercise terms provided by these stock options and warrants.

Future sales or issuances of equity Securities could decrease the value of the Common Shares, dilute investors' voting power and reduce the Corporation's earnings per share.

The Corporation may sell equity Securities in offerings (including through the sale of Debt Securities convertible into equity Securities) and may issue additional equity Securities to finance operations, exploration, development, acquisitions or other projects. The Corporation cannot predict the size of future issuances of equity Securities or the size and terms of future issuances of Debt Securities or other Securities convertible into equity Securities or the effect, if any, that future issuances and sales of the Securities will have on the market price of the Common Shares. Any transaction involving the issuance of previously authorized but unissued Common Shares, or Securities convertible into Common Shares, would result in dilution, possibly substantial, to shareholders. Exercises of presently outstanding stock options may also result in dilution to shareholders.

Sales of substantial amounts of the Securities, or the availability of the Securities for sale, could adversely affect the prevailing market prices for the Securities and dilute investors' earnings per share. A decline in the market prices of the Securities could impair the Corporation's ability to raise additional capital through the sale of additional Securities should the Corporation desire to do so.

The Corporation has discretion in the use of the net proceeds from an offering of Securities.

The Corporation intends to allocate the net proceeds it will receive from an offering of Securities as described under "Use of Proceeds" in this Prospectus and the applicable Prospectus Supplement, however, the Corporation will have discretion in the actual application of the net proceeds. The Corporation may elect to allocate the net proceeds differently from that described in "Use of Proceeds" in this Prospectus and the applicable Prospectus Supplement if the Corporation believes it would be in the Corporation's best interests to do so. The Corporation's investors may not agree with the manner in which the Corporation chooses to allocate and spend the net proceeds from an offering of Securities. The failure by the Corporation to apply these funds effectively could have a material adverse effect on the business of the Corporation.

There is an absence of a public market for certain of the Securities.

There is no public market for the Debt Securities, Warrants, Subscription Receipts or Units and, unless otherwise specified in the applicable Prospectus Supplement, the Corporation does not intend to apply for listing of the Debt Securities, Warrants, Subscription Receipts or Units on any securities exchanges. If the Debt Securities, Warrants, Subscription Receipts or Units are traded after their initial issuance, they may trade at a discount from their initial offering prices depending on prevailing interest rates (as applicable), the market for similar securities and other factors, including general economic conditions and the Corporation's financial condition. There can be no assurance as to the liquidity of the trading market for the Debt Securities, Warrants, Subscription Receipts or Units, or that a trading market for these securities will develop at all.

Changes in interest rates may cause the market price or value of the Debt Securities to decline.

Prevailing interest rates will affect the market price or value of the Debt Securities. The market price or value of the Debt Securities may decline as prevailing interest rates for comparable debt instruments rise, and increase as prevailing interest rates for comparable debt instruments decline.

PRINCIPAL CANADIAN FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS

The applicable Prospectus Supplement may describe certain Canadian federal income tax consequences to an applicable purchaser who is a non-resident of Canada or to a purchaser who is a resident of Canada of acquiring, owning and disposing of any Securities offered thereunder. Purchasers should read the tax discussion in any Prospectus Supplement with respect to a particular offering and consult their own tax advisors with respect to their own particular circumstances.

PURCHASERS' CONTRACTUAL RIGHTS

Original purchasers of Subscription Receipts, Warrants or Units (if offered separately) which are convertible into other securities of the Corporation will have a contractual right of rescission against the Corporation in respect of the conversion, exchange or exercise of such Subscription Receipts, Warrants or Units, as the case may be. The contractual right of rescission will entitle such original purchasers to receive, in addition to the amount paid on the original purchase of the Subscription Receipts, Warrants or Units, as the case may be, the amount paid upon conversion, exchange or exercise, upon surrender of the underlying securities gained thereby, in the event that this Prospectus (as supplemented or amended) contains a misrepresentation, provided that: (i) the conversion, exchange or exercise takes place within 180 days of the date of the purchase of the convertible, exchangeable or exercisable security under this Prospectus; and (ii) the right of rescission is exercised within 180 days of the date of the purchase of the convertible, exchangeable or exercisable security under this Prospectus. This contractual right of rescission will be consistent with the statutory right of rescission described under section 138 of The Securities Act (Saskatchewan) and is in addition to any other right or remedy available to original purchasers under section 138 of The Securities Act (Saskatchewan), or otherwise at law. Original purchasers are further advised that in certain provinces the statutory right of action for damages in connection with a prospectus misrepresentation is limited to the amount paid for the convertible, exchangeable or exercisable security that was purchased under a prospectus, and therefore a further payment at the time of conversion, exchange or exercise may not be recoverable in a statutory action for damages. The purchaser should refer to any applicable provisions of the securities legislation of the purchaser's province for the particulars of these rights, or consult with a legal advisor.

PURCHASERS' STATUTORY RIGHTS

Securities legislation in certain of the provinces of Canada provides purchasers with the right to withdraw from an agreement to purchase securities. This right may be exercised within two business days after receipt or deemed receipt of a prospectus and any amendment. The securities legislation in certain of the provinces of Canada further provides a purchaser with remedies for rescission or damages if the prospectus and any amendment thereto contains a misrepresentation or is not delivered to the purchaser, provided that the remedies for rescission or damages are exercised by the purchaser within the time limit prescribed by the securities legislation of the purchaser's province. The purchaser should refer to any applicable provisions of the securities legislation of the purchaser's province, for the particulars of these rights or consult with a legal advisor.

In an offering of Debt Securities that are convertible into Common Shares, Warrants, Subscription Receipts and Units, investors are cautioned that the statutory right of action for damages for a misrepresentation contained in the prospectus is limited, in certain provincial securities legislation, to the price at which the Debt Securities that are convertible into Common Shares, Warrants, Subscription Receipts and Units are offered to the public under the prospectus offering. This means that, under the securities legislation of certain provinces, if the purchaser pays additional amounts upon conversion, exchange or exercise of the security, those amounts may not be recoverable under the statutory right of action for damages that applies in those provinces. The purchaser should refer to any applicable provisions of the securities legislation of the purchaser's province for the particulars of this right of action for damages or consult with a legal advisor.
