

Golden Goliath Drone Magnetic Surveys at Manicouagan Project Completed

Vancouver, December 19, 2023, Golden Goliath Resources Ltd. (TSX.V GNG) (US: GGTH-F) (Frankfurt: GGZ)

Golden Goliath Resources is pleased to report that the drone magnetic surveys on their Ernest and Victory 21 REE properties near the Manicouagan impact crater in central Quebec have now been completed. A report on the interpretation of the data will be received after the holidays.

Golden Goliath's Manicouagan Project consists of four properties covering anomalous Rare Earth Element occurrences just to the south of the Manicouagan impact crater. The initial program focused on geology and geochemistry to identify the source of lake sediment anomalies and to assess previous anomalous rock samples on all four properties. In addition to this work, a ground radiometric survey was conducted on the Ernest and Victory 21 properties.

On the Ernest property the interpretation of the radiometric data identified 10 high priority anomalies and another 30 anomalies of interest. On the Victory 21 property 14 high priority targets were identified with a further 9 anomalies of interest. In the report Jean-M Hubert eng. notes that the anomalies of interest may be as significant as the high priority anomalies but may be masked by overburden.

Golden Goliath then commissioned detailed drone magnetic surveys on both Ernest and Victory 21 to outline the units responsible for the anomalous geophysics. In late spring 2024, the Company intends to conduct a trenching and stripping program to expose and sample the anomalous units.

Golden Goliath CEO Paul Sorbara notes “This completes our first season of fieldwork on our Manicouagan Project. Once the raw data has been processed we will have the results interpreted in conjunction with the highly encouraging radiometric data we collected in the late summer.” “I am confident that this will give us some excellent targets for our stripping and sampling program in 2024.”
