The Transaction is subject to receipt of all necessary regulatory approvals, including, as applicable, approval of the TSX Venture Exchange.

BCCo holds a 100% interest in and to the Capri and Capri2 historic Uranium deposits totalling 1,907,000 tonnes of U308 probable reserves, grading between 0.021% to 0.05% U308. The Capri and Capri2 historic Uranium deposits are located in Quebec, approximately 220km Northwest of the city of Monreal, and approximately 140km directly North of the city of Ottawa, and 2km north of the village of Grand-Remous.

The most significant quarterly loss and comprehensive loss of $184,108 and $183,895 during the 8 most recent quarters, occurred in Q2 and Q3 of 2024. The loss and comprehensive loss in those periods was increased as a result of share-based compensation related to options granted in 2024.

The net loss and comprehensive loss of $134,357 in Q2 ended December 31, 2022, was also higher than comparative quarters. The Company required additional services from its former CFO in relation to the acquisition of the Company's new subsidiary, Copper Creek. A consultant was also hired to assemble data and content generation.

The net loss and comprehensive loss of $145,689 in Q4 ended June 30, 2024, was also higher than comparative quarters. The Company incurred a $102,653 write-off relating to a receivable whose collectability was not assured during the three-month period ended June 30, 2024. The Company had no such impairment during the prior year.

The net loss and comprehensive loss of $97,464 ended September 30, 2024 was lower than comparative quarters due to cash preservation and a decrease in liquidity.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The financial statements have been prepared on a going-concern basis, which assumes the realization of assets and liquidation of liabilities in the normal course of business. Continuing operations, as intended, are dependent on management's ability to raise required funding through future equity issuances, its ability to acquire resource property or business interests and develop profitable operations or a combination thereof, which is not assured, given today's volatile and uncertain financial markets.

As at September 30, 2024, the Company had current assets of $8,041 (June 30, 2024 - $46,782) and current liabilities of $360,250 (June 30, 2024 - $301,527). As at September 30, 2024, the Company had a working capital deficiency of $352,209 (June 30, 2024 - $254,745).

On October 26, 2023, the Company closed the first tranche of its non-brokered private placement by issuing 2,800,000 units at a price of $0.055 per unit for gross proceeds of $154,000.

On November 3, 2023, the Company closed the second tranche of its non-brokered private placement by issuing 3,501,727 FT Units at a price of $0.055 per FT Unit for gross proceeds of $192,595.

On November 3, 2023, the Company also issued 855,000 units at a price of $0.055 per unit for gross proceeds of $47,025.

On November 22, 2023, the Company closed the third tranche of its non-brokered private placement by issuing 1,900,000 units at a price of $0.055 per unit for gross proceeds of $104,500.

On February 2, 2024, 400,000 warrants were exercised at a price of $0.085, resulting in $34,000 gross proceeds.

Other than the current assets and liabilities outlined above, the Company has capital spending requirements for exploration of resource properties and future plans and expectations are based on the assumption that the Company will realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business rather than through a process of forced liquidation. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to obtain adequate financing in the future or if available that such financing will be on acceptable terms. If adequate financing is not available when required, the Company may be required to delay, scale back or eliminate various programs and may be unable to continue in operation. The Company may seek such additional financing through debt or equity offerings. Any equity offering will result in dilution to the ownership interests of the Company's shareholders and may result in dilution to the value of such interests.

The Company's future revenues, if any, are expected to be from the mining and sale of resources or interests related thereto. The economics of recovering resources are affected by many factors including the cost of operations, variations in the grade of the resource, and the price of the commodity. Depending on the price of commodities, the Company may determine that it is impractical to continue commercial production. The price of commodities has fluctuated widely in recent years and is affected by many factors beyond the Company's control including changes in international investment patterns and monetary systems, economic growth rates, political developments, the extent of sales or accumulation of reserves by governments and shifts in private supplies of and demands for commodities. The supply of commodities consists of a combination of production, recycled material, and existing stocks held by governments, producers, financial institutions and consumers. If the market price for commodities falls below the Company's full production costs and remains at such levels for any sustained period of time, the Company will experience losses and may decide to discontinue operations or development of other projects or mining at one or more of its properties at that time.

Risk Factors

The Company entered into property option agreements whereby it can acquire identifiable assets. The Company will be required to raise further funds for working capital purposes and for exploration requirements. There is no certainty that the Company would be able to raise the requisite financing. Even if the results of further exploration are encouraging, the Company may not have sufficient funds to conduct further exploration that may be necessary to further develop the discovery on the property and may not realize a return on its investment. Failure to obtain additional capital could have a material adverse effect on the projects.

The price of the commodities being explored is also a significant risk factor, as substantial decline in their price could result in a decision to abandon a specific project.

Environmental laws and regulation could also impact the viability of a project. The Company has ensured that it has complied with these regulations, but there can be changes in legislation outside the Company's control that could also add a risk factor to projects.

Finally, operating in a specific country has legal, political and currency risk that must be carefully considered to ensure their level is commensurate to the Company's assessment of projects.

Financial Risk Factors

Fair value estimates of financial instruments are made at a specific point in time, based on relevant information about financial markets and specific financial instruments. As these estimates are subjective in nature, involving uncertainties and matters of significant judgment, they cannot be determined with precision. Changes in assumptions can significantly affect estimated fair values.

The carrying value of receivables, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, and loan payable approximate their fair value because of the short-term nature of these instruments. Cash is carried at fair value using a level 1 fair value measurement.

The Company's risk exposures and the impact on the Company's financial instruments are summarized below:

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of potential loss to the Company if the counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations. The Company's credit risk is primarily attributable to its liquid financial assets including cash. The Company limits exposure to credit risk on liquid financial assets through maintaining its cash with high-credit quality financial institutions.

Liquidity risk

The Company's approach to managing liquidity risk is to ensure that it will have sufficient liquidity to meet liabilities when due. As at September 30, 2024, the Company had a cash balance of $1,957 (June 30, 2024 - $38,322) to settle current liabilities of $360,250 (June 30, 2024 - $301,527). All of the Company's accounts payable and accrued liabilities have contractual maturities of 30 days or are due on demand and are subject to normal trade terms. The risk to the going concern assumption is presented in Note 1 of the financial statements for the period ended September 30, 2024.

Market risk

Market risk is the risk of loss that may arise from changes in market factors such as interest rates, foreign exchange rates, commodity, and equity prices. The Company does not have a practice of trading derivatives.

Commodity price risk

The Company is exposed to commodity price risk. Commodity price risk is defined as the potential impact on earnings and economic value due to commodity price movements and volatilities. The Company closely monitors commodity prices, individual equity movements, and the stock market to determine the appropriate course of action to be taken by the Company. The Company's future profitability and viability of exploration depends upon the world market price of commodities. Commodity prices have fluctuated widely in recent years. There is no assurance that, even if commercial quantities of commodities are produced in the future, a profitable market will exist for them. A decline in the market price of commodities may also result in the Company reducing its mineral resources, which could have a material and adverse effect on the Company's value. The Company is not a commodity producer as of September 30, 2024. Therefore, commodity price risk may affect the completion of future equity transactions such as equity offerings and the exercise of options and warrants. This may also affect the Company's liquidity and its ability to meet its ongoing obligations.

a) Interest rate risk

The Company's financial assets exposed to interest rate risk consist of cash balances. The Company's current policy is to invest excess cash in investment-grade short-term deposit certificates issued by its banking institutions. The Company periodically monitors the investments it makes and is satisfied with the credit ratings of its banks. As at September 30, 2024, the Company did not have any investments in investment-grade short-term deposit certificates.

The Company currently has no financial liabilities exposed to interest rate risk. The Company does not use derivative instruments to reduce its exposure to interest rate risk.

b) Foreign currency risk

The Company's foreign exchange risk arises from transactions denominated in other currencies; however, the Company currently has virtually no foreign currency denominated liabilities or assets. Fluctuations in the foreign currencies will, consequently, have little impact upon the Company's profitability and the value of the Company's liabilities. As at September 30, 2024, the impact of a 10% change in rate of exchange on the US dollar compared to the Canadian dollar would result in virtually no change on the Company's loss for the period. The Company does not use derivative instruments to reduce its exposure to foreign currency risk nor has it entered into foreign exchange contracts to hedge against gains or losses from foreign exchange fluctuations.

c) Price risk

The Company is exposed to price risk with respect to commodity and equity prices. Equity price risk is defined as the potential adverse impact on the Company's earnings due to movements in individual equity prices or general movements in the level of the stock market. Commodity price risk is defined as the potential adverse impact on earnings and economic value due to commodity price movements and volatilities. The Company closely monitors commodity prices, individual equity movements, and the stock market to determine the appropriate course of action to be taken by the Company.

Environmental Liabilities

The Company is not aware of any environmental liabilities, obligations, or responsibilities associated with the Company's resource properties.
