Management's Discussion & Analysis

Nine months ended September 30, 2024

During the nine months ended September 30, 2024, the Company was informed by its tax advisors of the requirement to withhold taxes on interest paid in cash to Autlan pursuant to the Loan Agreement, as required by Part XIII of the Income Tax Act. The Company should have withheld 10% of the interest repaid to Autlan, and remit that to the Canada Revenue Agency. Autlan could in turn use the amount withheld in their own Mexican income tax returns. However, as the Mexican fiscal system is strictly tied to cash movements, withholding amounts corresponding to periods paid in the past will have to be absorbed by the Company as a Part XIII one-time tax in the amount of $22,710, which includes the withholding requirement inclusive of late filing interest and other penalties. On a going-forward basis, the Company will withhold 10% of any interest payment and remit it to the Canada Revenue Agency. Included in Prepaid expenses and deposits is $1,639 overpayment to the CRA, which will be used against future Part XIII income tax withholdings.

("Grupo", a company controlled by a director of the Company) the "La Casita" mineral property, formerly known as El Rodeo property ("the Acquisition") in the State of Durango, Mexico, consisting of three mineral claims.

The Company is keeping the property under care and maintenance, with related costs charged to the consolidated statement of loss and comprehensive loss. The conclusions from earlier exploration programs on the property indicated that further exploration would be merited. The Company is analyzing different possibilities for this property, as well as considering other mineral properties as possible acquisition targets.

Dany II, Guanajuato, Mexico

During the year ended December 31, 2019, the Company issued a bid to the Mexican mining authorities for the potential acquisition of the Dany II concession in the state of Guanajuato, Mexico. The Company's majority shareholder, Autlan, owns other concessions in this area. While the bid was successful, the Mexican Ministry of Mines in Mexico has not issued the concession title. Furthermore, there is no assurance that the Mexican Ministry of Mines will extend issue new concession titles, in which case the Company would attempt to request a refund. If the title is issued, the Company will add this concession to its portfolio of properties for potential exploration.

The following concession payments have been incurred:

Total comprehensive loss for the period	(346,052)		(336,615)

The significant amounts from the comparative periods were as follows:

- Administration and accounting consists of a monthly fee of $5,000 paid to a company controlled by the Chief Financial Officer of the Company.
- While audit fees were marginally higher during 2024 as compared to 2023, the legal fees were substantially smaller in 2024. During 2023, the Mexican subsidiary incurred significant legal fees in connection to legal challenges to a proposed Mexican Mining Law legislation that would jeopardize the renewal of claims and the acquisition of new ones, as well as the obtention of exploration and mining permits.
- Property examination costs relate to the maintenance of the La Casita concessions, as detailed in the prior section. Concession maintenance fees have an annual increase which is reflected in the above figure, which is also affected by foreign exchange re-expression from Mexican pesos to Canadian dollars.
- The one-time Part XIII tax payment was explained above under (b) Financings.
- Filing fees include transfer agent and quarterly fees paid to the TSX Venture Exchange. They were consistent with the prior year's figure.
- Directors' fees: a $2,000 monthly stipend is paid to a director of the Company in his capacity of Chair of the Audit Committee.
- Office expenses are consistent with those of the comparative period of the prior year.
- Share-based payments relates to the straight-line vesting of stock options granted during the current period. It's a non-cash expense calculated pursuant to the Black-Scholes option pricing model.

Management's Discussion & Analysis

Nine months ended September 30, 2024

- Interest related to the Loan Agreement and Subsidiary Agreement are described above in Section 2(b). Interest on loans increased due to both the higher amount of principal outstanding and general increases in interest rates during 2022 and 2023. All interest accrued and outstanding up to December 31, 2023, has been repaid, as well as the total principal amount of the Subsidiary Agreement.
- Changes in foreign exchange are due to external factors, including changes in interest rates, monetary policy and economic situation of each jurisdiction, etc., affecting both the foreign exchange loss and the exchange differences on translating foreign operations.

During the third quarter of 2024, the Company received $17,521 (USD $13,000) in loan advances from Autlan pursuant to the Loan Agreement. The loss was smaller than during the third quarter of 2023 due to lower Mexican legal costs, as explained in prior sections.

During the second quarter of 2024, there was a very large variation in the foreign exchange, and in opposite direction as in the same quarter of 2023. This was the main contributing factor to the significantly larger figure of loss before other expenses. The rest of the discussion of this quarter is the same as the disclosure made in the previous section. The increase in total liabilities is tied to the increase in amounts due to Autlan pursuant to the Loan Agreement, on which the Company depends for the continuance of its operations.

During the first quarter of 2024 the Company repaid the outstanding interest on pursuant to the Subsidiary Agreement, effectively extinguishing this loan. The higher loss is mostly due to higher interest rates on its Loan Agreement as both the principal amount and the interest rates rise, and higher legal and audit costs than in the same quarter of 2023.

During the fourth quarter of 2023 the Company repaid Autlan the principal amount owed on its Subsidiary Agreement. The purpose is to eliminate this agreement once the remaining outstanding interests are paid. The expenses for this quarter were consistent with those of the fourth quarter in 2022.

Expenses of the third quarter of 2023 were higher than those of the same quarter in 2022 mostly due to higher legal fees, and higher interest rates applied to larger principal amounts on the Loan Agreement and Subsidiary Agreement.

The increase in total assets during the June 2023 quarter as compared with both prior and subsequent quarters was due to the funding received from Autlan through the Loan Agreement. Loss for the period was slightly higher than in prior quarters due to the additional payments related to the audit, preparation of tax return, and annual general meeting that included the preparation of a new stock option plan.

Given the present level of ongoing obligations and expenses, the Company must rely on the continued financial support from Autlan in order to meet its operational obligations for the foreseeable future.

6.- Capital resources

The Company's ability to raise additional funds from the equity markets will largely depend upon general market conditions, and the Company's ability to acquire new properties and to achieve certain exploration milestones. In order to attain these objectives and to meet its operational obligations, the Company will continue to rely on the financial support from Autlan. There can be no assurance the Company will be successful in achieving these goals and, accordingly, there is a material uncertainty casting significant doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

External factors

There are many external factors that can adversely affect general workforces, economies and financial markets globally. Examples include, but are not limited to, COVID-19 global pandemic and political conflict in other regions. It is not possible for the Company to predict the duration or magnitude of adverse results of such external factors and their effect on the Company's business or ability to raise funds.

The Company will take the necessary measures to renegotiate, if required, any contractual obligations with respect to potential exploration and other expenses. The Company will also examine the internal controls required for a secure operation of its computer and other electronic resources for operation from a remote location.

Management's Discussion & Analysis

Nine months ended September 30, 2024

10.- Critical accounting estimates and adoption of new accounting standards

Critical accounting estimates

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income, and expenses. On an ongoing basis, management evaluates its judgments and estimates in relation to assets, liabilities, revenue, and expenses. Management uses historical experience and various other factors it believes to be reasonable under the given circumstances as the basis for its judgments and estimates. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Adoption of new accounting standards

No new accounting standards or IFRS pronouncements were adopted during the nine months ended September 30, 2024. During the year ended December 31, 2023, the Company adopted amendments to IAS 1, Presentation of Financial Statements (effective January 1, 2023) requiring entities to disclose their material accounting policy information rather than significant accounting policy information. The amendments provide guidance on how an entity can identify material accounting policy information and clarify that information may be material because of its nature, even if the related amounts are immaterial. The amendments did not result in any changes to the accounting policies themselves.

11.- Financial instruments

With the adoption of IFRS 9, the Company has classified cash and cash equivalents, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, due to related parties, loans with related party and Part XIII tax liability at amortized cost. At present, the Company does not have any FVTPL or FVTOCI financial assets.

The Company's financial instruments are exposed to certain financial risks. The risk exposures and the impact on the Company's financial instruments are summarized below.

Currency Risk

As at September 30, 2024, all of the Company's cash and cash equivalents were held either in Canadian dollars, US dollars or Mexican pesos. The Company incurs expenditures in Canada and Mexico, and as such is exposed to currency risk associated with these costs.

A change in the value of the Mexican peso by 10% relative to the Canadian dollar would affect the Company's working capital by approximately $4,000 (December 31, 2023 - $1,000), and its net loss for the year by approximately $4,000 (2023 - $12,000).

A change in the value of the US dollar by 10% relative to the Canadian dollar would affect the Company's working capital by approximately $224,000 (December 31, 2023 - $183,000), and its net loss for the year by approximately $42,000 (2023 - $18,000). These amounts are related to the Loan Agreement, which is denominated in US dollars.

Interest rate and credit risk

The Company has cash balances and significant debt owed to a majority shareholder. The Company periodically monitors the investments it makes and is satisfied with the credit ratings of its banks.

The Company is exposed to interest rate risk on its Loan Agreement as detailed in under Financings, above. A change 1% change in interest rate would affect the interest by approximately $5,500 based on the principal outstanding as at September 30, 2024 (2023 - $4,700).

Liquidity risk

The Company will depend on the advances provided by Autlan through the Loan Agreement. The liquidity risk relates to the low cash position and the dependence on these advances. See Note 1 to the Financial Statements for further discussion regarding liquidity risks.

13.- Management's responsibility over financial information

The Company's management is responsible for presentation and preparation of the quarterly and annual consolidated financial statements and the MD&A. These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with IFRS.

The MD&A has been prepared in accordance with the requirements of securities regulators, including National Instrument 51-102 of the Canadian Securities Administrators ("CSA").

The quarterly and annual consolidated financial statements and information in the MD&A necessarily include amounts based on informed judgments and estimates of the expected effects of current events and transactions with appropriate consideration to materiality. In addition, in preparing the consolidated financial information we must interpret the requirements described above, make determinations as to the relevancy of information to be included, and make estimates and assumptions that affect reported information. The MD&A also includes information regarding the impact of current transactions and events, sources of liquidity and capital resources, operating trends, risks, and uncertainties. Actual results in the future may differ materially from our present assessment of this information because future events and circumstances may not occur as expected.

Disclosure Controls and Procedures

In connection with National Instrument 52-109 (Certificate of Disclosure in Issuer's Annual and Interim Filings) ("NI 52-109"), the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer of the Company have filed a Venture Issuer Basic Certificate with respect to the financial information contained in the condensed consolidated interim financial statements for the nine months ended September 30, 2024, and this accompanying MD&A.

In contrast to the full certificate under NI 52-109, the Venture Issuer Basic Certificate does not include representations relating to the establishment and maintenance of disclosure controls and procedures and internal control over financial reporting, as defined in NI 52-109. For further information, the reader should refer to the Venture Issuer Basic Certificates filed by the Company with the Annual Filings on SEDAR+ at www.sedarplus.ca.

14.- Risk factors

Development-stage mineral exploration companies face a variety of risks and, while unable to eliminate all of them, the Company aims at managing and reducing such risks as much as possible.

Few exploration projects successfully achieve development due to factors that cannot be predicted or anticipated, and even one such factor may result in the economic viability of a project being detrimentally impacted such that it is neither feasible nor practical to proceed. The Company closely monitors its activities and those factors that could impact them and employs experienced consulting to assist in its risk management and to make timely adequate decisions.

Title to mineral properties involves certain inherent risks due to the difficulties of determining the validity of certain claims, as well as the potential for problems arising from the frequently ambiguous conveyance history characteristic of many mineral properties. Regarding the properties under the option agreement described in Section 2, the Company's mineral properties' titles are in good standing as of the date of this report.

The price of the commodities being explored is also a significant risk factor, as a substantial decline in their price could result in a decision to abandon a specific project.

Environmental laws and regulation could also impact the viability of a project. The Company has ensured that it has complied with these regulations, but there can be changes in legislation outside the Company's control that could also add a risk factor to a project.

At the present time, the Company has no rights to a property of merit, and therefore its ability to raise capital is limited, having to rely on funding provided by Autlan to meet its obligations, including the search for a property of merit.

Finally, operating in a specific country has legal, political and currency risk that must be carefully considered to ensure their level is commensurate to the Company's assessment of the project.

15.- Forward-looking statements

Certain statements made and information contained in this MD&A and elsewhere constitute "forward-looking information" within the meaning of the Ontario Securities Act. Forward-looking statements are subject to a variety of risks and uncertainties which could cause actual events or results to differ from those reflected in the forward-looking statements, including, without limitation, risks and uncertainties relating to the interpretation of drill results and the estimation of mineral resources, the geology, grade and continuity of mineral deposits, the possibility that future exploration, development results will not be consistent with the Company's expectations, accidents, equipment breakdowns, title matters and surface access, labour disputes, the potential for delays in exploration activities, the potential for unexpected costs and expenses, commodity price fluctuations, currency fluctuations, failure to obtain adequate financing on a timely basis and other risks and uncertainties, including those described under Risk Factors in each MD&A.

In addition, forward-looking information is based on various assumptions including, without limitation, the expectations and beliefs of management, the assumed long-term price of gold, that the Company will receive required permits and access to surface rights, that the Company can access financing, appropriate equipment, and sufficient labour and that the political environment within Mexico will continue to support the development of environmentally safe mining projects. Should one or more of these risks and uncertainties materialize, or should underlying assumptions prove incorrect, actual results may vary materially from those described in forward-looking statements. Accordingly, readers are advised not to place undue reliance on forward-looking statements.
