

Sage Potash Welcomes Richard Lock to the Company's Board of Directors

Vancouver, British Columbia--(Newsfile Corp. - February 26, 2026) - Sage Potash Corp. (TSXV: SAGE) (OTCQB: SGPTF) ("Sage Potash" or the "Company") is pleased to welcome Mr. Richard Lock to the Company's Board of Directors.

Mr. Lock is a renowned mining engineer who has led the construction and development of several world class mining projects around the world. Among his many significant mine development and project construction experience, he has been project director at Rio Tinto's Resolution Copper in Arizona, Keystone Copper in Utah and the award winning Diavik Diamond mine in the NWT. Mr. Lock has held executive and project director roles at Yara International's Dallol Project, a Sulphur of Potash mining project in Ethiopia; Western Potash Corporation's Milestone project, a Muriate of Potash solution mining project in Saskatchewan; Arizona Mining Inc.'s, Hermosa project, a lead-zinc silver mine in southern Arizona and was senior vice-president of PolyMet Mining Corp. and Project Director for its NorthMet Project in Minnesota. He is the CEO and a director of Oroco Resource Corp. developing the Santo Tomas project in Northern Mexico with a large copper-gold porphyry deposit.

Patricio Varas, CEO and director, commented: "We are delighted to welcome Richard to Sage's board with his extensive mine development and construction experience in the potash sector and indeed in the development of several world class mines." Mr. Varas further commented, that: "Richard's acceptance to join our board given his significant experience with important, worldwide mine development projects speaks to the quality and great investment opportunity for the Sage Plains project in the United States, where there is a crucial need for domestic production of this critical mineral."

David Reid, Chairman of the Board, commented: "The ability of Pat to bring Richard on to the Company's board aligns with the board's mandate to add engineering and mine building expertise. Richard will provide invaluable guidance to the technical and engineering team that is being assembled by Sage's management for the next stage of mine development."

This board appointment reflects Sage Potash's focus on the next stage of development following the filing of its Preliminary Economic Assessment technical report for its Sage Plain Potash Project, and its ongoing commitment to strong technical and financial governance as it continues to execute on its strategic objectives.
