The Company has used the Term Loan to refinance the drawdown under the existing $1.75 billion revolving credit facility used to fund the upfront cash consideration of $800 million for the acquisition of fifty-one percent (51%) of the issued and outstanding equity of Lumina Copper, which owns the Caserones copper-molybdenum mine in Chile.

The Company is working with the Co-Sustainability Structuring Agents to establish a sustainability-linked component to the Term Loan and the existing revolving credit facility. The Term Loan is unsecured, save and except for a charge over certain assets in the United States of America, and has similar covenants to the Company's existing $1.75 billion revolving credit facility.
